Money Problems Facing Solons in Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS (AP) — Where's the money coming from?

That was the question circulating through Ohio legislative halls today as the 173-member 102nd General Assembly started its 1957 regular session.

Money, or the lack of it, looks like the big problem for the Buckeye State's lawmakers, for the next six or seven months.

Before Ohio's senate and house begin to look at the state's flat-topped purse, they are expected to do a fast job of authorizing pay increases for the 14 members of Gov.-Elect C. William O'Neill's cabinet—perhaps as high as $30,000 for the highway director and $25,000 a year for the director of mental hygiene and correction. Both directors now are paid $12,000 a year.

The increases are designed to give O'Neill a chance of "drafting" qualified persons as departmental directors. The bill is due to be introduced in the house today and approved by both houses before O'Neill is inaugurated a week hence.

THE REPUBLICAN governor-elect probably will withhold announcement of any cabinet appointments until all appointees are assured pay increases. Some cabinet members now draw $12,000 a year and others $10,000. Most department heads are expected to be advanced to about $18,000 a year.

But the legislators aren't worried about pay increases for top officials. They are looking, for instance, at the $125 million tab for the state school subsidy increase in the 1957-58 bookkeeping period. That figure assumes the accuracy of semi-official predictions recently that 1957-58 school subsidy spending will be $93 million above that in the current two-year period which ends June 30. It also assumes that the Legislature must appropriate another $31½ million to cover the school subsidy for the present two-year period.

If the school money forecast is accurate, the school subsidy appropriation in this coming session will be almost $400 million.

How tough will it be for the lawmakers to raise the $125 million school subsidy increase? If they were to raise it with an across-the-board tax boost (which they won't) it would take a 12 per cent increase in every tax the state now levies.

While the school finance problem is the most dramatic, there are other big money headaches—a general pay increase demanded by state employees and the cost of payrolls for new mental and penal institutions. Local governments, too, are looking for substantial help from the state.

The Legislature has held firmly to a "no-new-taxes" policy for the last few years. Technically, the new Legislature may avoid "new" taxes in the coming session. Leaders are reported to be considering boosts in several existing taxes to bolster the state treasury against big new money demands.

Among these is the restoration of the one-cent sales tax on purchases of 9 to 40 cents. Another is the possible abandonment of the system by which Ohio charitable organizations get several million dollars a year by redeeming state sales tax stamps at 3 per cent of their face value. The redemption play was adopted more than 15 years ago as an enforcement measure. The penny tax on purchases between 9 and 40 cents was dropped 10 years ago.

All the lawmakers' concern won't be for money problems. Among others will be:

A PROBABLE revision in the workmen's compensation law.

Fair Employment Practices legislation.

A legislative attack on the problems of mushrooming cities.

Consideration of the plight of the six state universities with their expected influx of students.

Action to preserve and build up Ohio's water supplies.

The GOP-controlled houses of the Legislature aren't sure how long it will be before they get a message from the governor.

Interim Gov. John W. Brown would be wholly within his rights to deliver a message on the "state of the state"—a chore the governor traditionally performs early in the legislative session.

But he still hasn't made up his mind whether to deliver such an address or to pass the honor to O'Neill.

The GOP controls the 34-member senate 22-12; its edge in the house is even greater, 97-42. The senate will have eight first-termers—four in each party—but the house will have 30 freshmen, 23 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

Pay of legislators has been increased from $3,200 a year to $5,000. Legislators also are allowed 10 cents a mile for weekly travel between their homes and Columbus during sessions, free postage, stationery and other perquisites. Lawmakers also are immune from arrest while traveling to and from sessions.

957 Jews Arrive in Italy, Claim Ouster from Egypt

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — A shipload of Jewish men, women and children has arrived here from Egypt, telling a story of terrorism, imprisonment, expulsion and forfeiture of property.

An officer on the Egyptian passenger ship Misr, which brought the 957 Jews from Alexandria, denied the account. He said the Jews were well treated and left of their own accord.

Many of the arrivals said they expected the rest of Egypt's 40,000 Jews to leave soon. The Egyptian said those he brought out were mostly stateless and that two thirds of his country's Jews, who have Egyptian citizenship, will stay in the country.

Fewer than 100 of the arrivals have passports — as citizens of France, England, Italy or other countries. The families of many of the stateless have been in Egypt for three, four or five generations. They said it was hard to get Egyptian citizenship.

A once-wealthy Cairo Jewish businessman gave this reason for the exodus:

HUGE BUS RAMS TRUCK - 6 DIE — Six persons were killed, and 16 others injured in the wreckage of this huge double-decked bus when it rammed into a stopped trailer-truck laden with pipe near Lexington, Va. The bus was enroute from Memphis, Tenn., to Washington, D. C.

'Aims' Car at Officer; Driver Draws Four Fines

A Columbus man who allegedly tried to run down police Sgt. Walter Marshall with his automobile shortly after midnight Saturday was fined $60 and costs in Municipal Court Monday on a variety of charges.

Warren D. Mills was arrested around 3 a. m. Sunday in White Oak by Sheriff Orland Hays, after Marshall had chased Mills back and forth through Washington C. H.

The whole thing started, Marshall said, when Mills backed his car from its parking space on Court St., around the corner into Fayette St., a reckless operation offense.

Marshall stopped the police cruiser and stepped out to flag down Mills. The Columbus man stepped on the gas, and "aimed" his car at Marshall so that the officer had to leap out of the way to avoid being hit. Mills sped away, running through red lights at Fayette and Court, and Main and Court.

MARSHALL jumped back in his car and gave chase. "The man was probably doing 50 or 60 miles an hour," he said. "He was really giving that car a workout."

Hiding in alleys and backtracking, Mills finally escaped the pursuing officer and fled the city. Marshall called the Franklin County (Columbus) sheriff's office, and learned where Mills might be headed. Then he called Sheriff Hays and asked him to arrest Mills.

Hays got his man. Mills this morning pleaded guilty to four charges and paid fines of $25 and costs for reckless operation, $25 and costs for resisting arrest, and $5 and costs on each of two charges of running a red light.

"He may have run more than two lights," Marshall said. "I couldn't see that far ahead."

Hillsboro Sees Schools Now Integrated

HILLSBORO (AP)—Hillsboro's elementary school integration program finally was completed today with the opening of the new Washington School.

Negro and white children have been attending the same school since last September but until the Washington School could be completed it was necessary to send all elementary pupils to the Webster School.

Those who have been attending the Webster School have included those originally assigned to both the Webster and Washington School and Negroes who formerly attended the now abandoned Lincoln School.

The squabble over integration in this Highland County town was the subject of a lengthy court fight lasting more than two years. The school board sought to maintain the Lincoln School as an all-Negro school until new Webster and Washington buildings could be completed.

The National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People supported a Federal Court attack but U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati originally declined to order immediate integration.

He was overruled by the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, and the U. S. Supreme Court then declined to review the case.

3 Men Missing In Pennsy Blast

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — An explosion ripped through the Pennsylvania Powder Co. plant early today and set fire to a score of buildings.

First reports said three men were missing and believed dead. Eight workers were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, 20 miles west of this northern Pennsylvania community. Emporium is a rural community of some 3,500, 85 miles southeast of Erie.

"Everything at the plant was torn to hell," William Smith, a stationary fireman at the plant, said after the explosion. "It about shook the town off its hinges."

13 Ships in Suez Due To Leave Canal

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Thirteen ships finally were on their way out of the Suez Canal today, more than two months after the British-French invasion and Egyptian counter-measures bottled them up in the waterway.

They made their passage north to Port Said despite a tricky navigating problem. Col. Mahmoud Yunes, managing director of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority, estimated it might take until Thursday to get all 13 out of the canal.

'New' Hungary Program Seen As Tougher

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed government, taking the wraps off its long-promised "new program," combines get-tough Stalinism with an appeal to the West for financial aid.

The program was issued Sunday from the premier's office in Parliament Building, ringed by protecting Russian tanks. It was broadcast as a 10,000-word statement over the Budapest radio.

The statement probably got its final drafting last week while visiting Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev looked on. The Hungarians were told:

"There is a dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary. . . . The counterrevolutionaries and persons who attack the legal order and the basic principles of the people's democracy have no freedom even if they mask their counterrevolutionary efforts by democratic slogans. The law will always punish them severely."

In an obvious reference to the Soviet-crushed revolt in November, the statement said:

"PEOPLE OF petty thinking or people who were masking themselves as Marxists set as their aim the disintegration of social order and the dissolution of it whereby they used slogans like democratization, de-Stalinization and others. . . . It is therefore a main task to strengthen the people's democratic installations and organizations. . . ."

The statement said "the government is planning talks with various public figures and non-party experts aimed at their participation in leading state affairs with the government." This indicated some sort of coalition government but did not mention any non-Communist parties.

The government pledged a continuation of the socialization of agriculture and asserted that "steps will be taken with all the severity of the dictatorship of the proletariat against people who damage agricultural installations."

The statement blasted Stalinists leaders Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero as well as Imre Nagy, who succeeded them and was ousted as premier by Kadar and his supporters with Russian help.

The government also proclaimed that it "respects the freedom of belief of all citizens and considers the standpoint of religious questions a private matter. It secures full freedom to the churches and confessions."

The statement said the recent revolt wrought damage of nearly $1 billion.

In Moscow, Pravda quoted Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath as saying that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has been invited to visit Hungary "in the spring."

Force Said Needed To Convince Reds

Mid-East Cool On Ike's Proposal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower's plan for blocking communism in the Middle East was viewed with misgivings today in most of the Arab world.

Reaction elsewhere ranged from enthusiasm in some Western European countries to cries of "rude interference" from Moscow. Non-Arab allies of the United States in the Middle East welcomed it.

The Eisenhower doctrine, aimed at preventing Communist encroachment on the Middle East, couples the promise of large-scale economic help to the area with a threat to use U. S. armed forces against overt Communist aggression there. The President outlined it to Congress Saturday.

In Cairo, the reception was chilly but mild. Some Egyptians who had hoped the United States was ready to unveil a new policy of support for President Nasser were disappointed.

THERE WAS also the feeling that the doctrine would make it more difficult for Egypt to play off the Communists against the West, as in the past. There was fear that continued flirting with the Soviet bloc through arms purchases and other help would lay Nasser open to the charge of being a vehicle of "indirect Communist aggression."

Many Arabs throughout the area expressed disappointment that the President passed quickly over the Israel-Arab dispute, leaving the United Nations to continue its so far unsuccessful efforts to solve this problem.

Sharp Reversal in Policy Seen in Ike's Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, who on Oct. 31 criticized the use of foreign aid in the Middle East is now seeking advance authority to use it there.

He also wants to send arms to Middle Eastern nations, although his administration has often stated its determination to avoid an arms race in the Middle East.

In his new division of Middle East responsibility between the United States and the United Nations, as expressed to Congress Saturday, Eisenhower has left himself wide flexibility to act or not to act.

But he might also be open to criticism that his proposal for U. S. defense of an attacked Middle Eastern country is about what the Russian practiced in Hungary.

These points emerged in the wake of the President's dramatic personal appeal for congressional showed general disappointment in the doctrine. But a number of Arabs found some "good things" in it, such as an implication of stronger U. S. support for independence movements.

Newspapers in Israel also were disappointed that the speech did not offer a remedy to the Israeli-Arab problem. But they welcomed the step as an entrance of the United States in the Middle East.

In Syria, where a pro-Soviet clique is in power, official quarters called the doctrine a "formal declaration of cold war."

A spokesman said the Middle East does not want a struggle between East and West.

Political circles in Iraq, which is aligned with the West in the Baghdad Pact, thought the doctrine seemed to touch the disease in the Middle East without trying to find the cause.

TURKEY, an NATO and Baghdad Pact member, gave the plan in Middle East. Premier Mendres said:

"One fact, that the Middle East will not be abandoned to its fate, is clearly understood. Peace and stability may prevail in the region."

Most Western Europe was gratified by the new policy. Papers in Italy found little to criticize in the plan except that "it came late."

A French government spokesman said, "The President has recognized the danger to Western Europe's stability and security involved in Communist enterprise in the Middle East."

British papers welcomed the plan as a step forward. Some were disparaging because they thought it came too late and did not go far enough.

OFFICIALS commenting about them acknowledged that:

1. The administration considers the situation has changed since Oct. 31, when Eisenhower told a nationwide radio-TV audience that there "will be no United States involvement in these present hostilities," meaning the Israeli-British-French invasions of Egypt. He said "use of force is not the way to deal with international problems."

Eisenhower's new plan calls for fight-if-necessary authority coupled with military and economic aid programs. Its basic premise is use of force.

Actress Claims $80,000 Ransom Set by Kidnapers

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Marie McDonald of filmland says that an $80,000 ransom was set by the two swarth men who, she told police, kidnaped her.

The glamorous blonde actress, wearing a white nightgown, burst into tears twice as she told a news conference in her bedroom Sunday that the men said they hoped to ransom her for $20,000 each from these four persons:

1. Actor Michael Wilding, estranged husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor and Miss McDonald's escort in recent weeks.

2. Shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, twice married and twice divorced from Miss McDonald.

3. Mrs. Marie Tubeni, her mother.

4. Harold Plant, her business manager.

The two men called Karl and her mother, she said, and dialed the telephone so she could talk to Wilding and Plant. Ransom was not mentioned in any of the calls.

"They wanted to build up worry with each call so that they would pay the ransom," Miss McDonald, flanked by two attorneys, told newsmen in the same bedroom from which she said she was abducted.

After she disappeared Thursday night, male callers phoned Karl and Mrs. Tubeni and Miss Mc-

Donald phoned Wilding, Plant and movie columnist Harrison Carroll. She said the men forced her to leave with them by threatening her sleeping children with a gun. She said she was taken to a house in the Los Angeles area where she was held most of Friday. The men gave her whisky and pills, she said.

"I hid them in the hollow of my cheek and later got rid of them," she said. "They apparently thought the pills had knocked me out." It was then, she said, that she phoned Carroll.

She burst into tears as she told newsmen how her abductors had hit her "more than once." She cried again when a reporter asked her, "Why?"

After she was found on the desert near Indio Friday night, police questioned her in an Indio hospital. Detectives at the scene backed up statements of her physician that there was no indication that she had been raped.

But detectives in Los Angeles said that she had informed officers that she had been raped.

Karl, speaking to newsmen later at his Bel-Air home, said, "This is the first kidnap I ever heard of where ransom money was not mentioned when the kidnapers phoned."

He said he wanted to know "if this is a kidnapping" or not.

Dulles Contends Ike's Plan To Assure Peace

Secretary of State Gives Mid-East Views Before House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today that the way to peace in the Middle East is to make it "clear that armed Communist attack would have to be met, if need be, by the armed forces of the United States."

"You may feel, I do feel," Dulles told a crowded public meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, "that there is in fact no doubt as to what the Congress would do if international communism set out on a piecemeal conquest of the world by war."

"But until the Congress has actually spoken, there is doubt in the Middle East and there may be doubt in the Soviet Union."

Delay would make such doubts grow, the secretary said, and he told the legislators, some of whom have expressed concern with the sweeping nature of the fight-if-necessary authority sought by the President.

"The purpose of the proposed resolution is not war. It is peace. The purpose, as in other cases where the President and the Congress have acted together to oppose international communism, is to stop World War III before it starts."

DULLES TOLD the soberly listening lawmakers that "a Communist breakthrough in the Middle East" would be a disaster reaching far beyond the confines of that area.

Dulles said Soviet domination of Middle Eastern nations would be "a major disaster for them."

It would be, he continued:

1. A political disaster "because then those nations, like the European satellites, would lose the national independence which they so ardently desire and which now they are beginning to exercise in full measure."

2. An economic disaster because "the principal economic asset of the area is petroleum and only the free nations offer an adequate market."

3. "A disaster for the peoples of the Middle East because they are deeply religious peoples and their spiritual suffering would be grievous if they were subjected to the fate of other religious peoples who have fallen under the rule of atheistic Communism."

In advance of Dulles' appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, several members posed queries concerning the proposal Eisenhower laid before Congress Saturday.

Discussion showed developing opposition to "blank check" authority to use foreign aid funds and to what Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) called "declaring war ahead of time."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), describing Eisenhower's proposals as "loaded with dynamite," said there is a chance Congress will vote them down.

But though both Democratic and Republican legislators raised questions about the plan, there was general agreement that Congress

Snow Blankets Fayette County

An inch and a half of snow Sunday night blanketed the area, but much of it had disappeared by noon today.

The Fayette County sheriff's office reported half a dozen accidents due to slippery highways, all of them minor.

Coyt A. Stookey, local weather observer, said the snow melted down to only .08 inches of water on his instruments. Minimum temperature overnight was 29, and yesterday's maximum 31.

Snow prevailed across the nation yesterday, from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians. Columbus had about four inches during the day and evening.

Porter's Bakery Purchased by H. J. Orthmeyer

Becomes Effective
Monday Morning

Porter's Pastries, a retail specialty bakery at 210 E. Court St., today was operating as usual, but under a new ownership.

Harold J. Orthmeyer completed the purchase from Ed Porter late Saturday afternoon after several weeks of negotiations. He took over when the doors were opened Monday morning.

Orthmeyer, who has similar bakeries at Sciotoville and Jackson, said there will be no changes in either policy or operation, the products or the personnel. Baked goods, from all kinds of pastries to bread and rolls, will continue to be baked and sold at retail in the future just as in the past, Orthmeyer said.

The name, Porter's Pastries, will remain the same, at least for the present, Orthmeyer said.

THE ORTHMEYER family — Mr. and Mrs. Orthmeyer and their two sons and three daughters, ranging in age from 2½ to 16 years — moved from Sciotoville into their home, 911 Willabar Dr., here Saturday afternoon.

Orthmeyer said he had "grown up in the bakery business, always in the retail end of it." He added that he has had years of experience in the bake shop, from preparing the dough, operating the ovens and putting the finished products on the retail counter.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter, who only recently moved into their new home on Briar Ave., said that, while their plans for the future are indefinite, they expect to continue to make Washington C. H. their home.

They came here 14 years ago from Dayton, where Porter followed his trade as a baker, when they bought the bakery from Mrs. William Foutch. The bakery had been established and run by Foutch for 14 years before his death.

Like Orthmeyer, Porter has been in the bakery since a young man. He was born on a farm near the old Sulphur Lick Springs Hotel in Ross County and started as youth to learn the trade in Chillicothe.

THE PORTERS, both ardent anglers, own an undeveloped tract of land about 30 miles south of Traverse City, Mich. Located near Bear Lake and about four miles from Lake Michigan, they have been going there for their vacations and fishing for the last several summers.

Porter said that he and Mrs. Porter probably will spend at least part of their summers in Michigan, but that they expect to come back here for the winter months.

Sharp Reversal

Intention introduced in the House deal the United States in on any future arms shipments to the Middle East.

Before the recent Suez outbreak, the continuing Arab - Israeli disputes had left the United States reluctant to allow more than token shipments of military equipment to either side.

3. Basic to the Eisenhower Middle East proposal is the idea that the United Nations is powerless to handle Russia in the Middle East and that any U. S. action would be taken only after a request from a country in the area. The Russians have used similar arguments in explaining why they sent the Red army into Hungary two months ago.

Judge's Office Scene of Alarm

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Burglar and jail break alarms went off simultaneously at the county courthouse. A deputy reported a noise coming from the district judge's office. About 15 officers rushed to the office with guns drawn. They looked in to find a startled District Judge Edwin L. Swope and his wife clearing up some office work. A short was found in the alarm system.

Pastors Endorse Legion's 'Back To God' Program

Association Assures Cooperation with National Movement

The Fayette County Ministerial Assn. Monday morning gave its approval to and assurance of cooperation with the nationwide "Back to God Movement" sponsored by the American Legion.

The action was taken at the association's regular monthly meeting, which was held in the First Presbyterian Church manse, after the movement had been outlined in detail by Paul Souther of Washington C. H., chaplain of the Seventh District of the Legion.

The ministers agreed to insert leaflets describing the movement in their weekly bulletins to the members of their congregations before the Feb. 3 "Back to God" services. The inside of the leaflets will carry a sermonette prepared by the Legion.

THE MEETING was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Charles Ware, pastor of the Gregg St. Church of Christ in Christian Union.

In the absence of the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, during the early part of the meeting, the Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, acted as secretary.

Other ministers at the meeting were the Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Berry Kennedy, pastor of the Southside Church of Christ; the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church; and Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church here and the Bloomington Presbyterian Church.

THERE WAS some discussion of the application for a liquor permit by the Paul H. Hughes post of the American Legion, 212 N. Fayette St., but no action was taken by the ministers as an association.

However, the pastors of the two churches involved by their proximity to the Legion Hall, the Rev. Mr. Poe of Grace Church and the Rev. Mr. McMillin of the Christian Church, said the official boards of their churches had gone on record as opposing the issuance of the permit and would make formal protest at the hearing scheduled at the Courthouse Jan. 17.

THE REV. MR. McMillin was assigned to speak at special chapel services at New Holland High School April 3 and the Rev. Mr. Kennedy on May 5. The ministerial association has been cooperating with the New Holland schools for these monthly chapel programs.

A similar, but not identical, service is held at Washington C. H. High School. Here many of the services are conducted by students with ordained ministers appearing at irregular intervals. The Rev. Mr. Hand is to address the WHS chapel Tuesday morning.

The secretary reported a balance of $194.85 in the treasury. This money comes primarily from special contributions made at the churches throughout the year. The fund is used largely to maintain religious functions of the chapel at Memorial Hospital here. Magazines and Bibles are kept in the chapel for those who go there to seek comfort in times of emotional stress. "Upper Room" devotional handbooks also are given to the hospital patients.

The association's next meeting will be at the First Baptist Church at 9:30 a. m. Feb. 4.

Dulles Contends

eventually will approve some program with the general outline Eisenhower laid down, although it may clamp some restrictions on the broad authority he asked.

The four-point program he outlined included approval in advance for his use of American military forces, at the request of any threatened Middle Eastern nation, to oppose "overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international communism," and provision for both military and economic aid to countries in the area.

FOR ECONOMIC aid, Eisenhower asked $200 million a year for two years starting July 1. In addition, he asked authority to use up to $200 million of presently appropriated foreign aid funds "without regard to the provisions of any other law or regulation." It is believed, however, that only between 50 and 75 millions of appropriated funds still are available.

The money angle is one that Chairman Thomas S. Cordon (D-Ill.) of the House committee said he wants straightened out at the hearings — whether Eisenhower wants 400 millions or 600 millions or what amount in between.

Gordon said he wants to know also whether Eisenhower plans to step up U. S. armed forces strength in the Middle East.

There were no indications at the Pentagon that the Middle East plan contemplates any immediate change in the nation's defense lineup in that area.

Committee member Burleson (D-Tex.) said Eisenhower already has power as commander in chief to use troops. But now that the question is publicly presented, he added, Congress has no choice but to back up the President before "world."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he expects "a number of amendments or perhaps a new resolution."

But he added that his party shouldn't be too critical unless it

Taxi Driver Admits, Denies Ohio Slayings

CHICAGO (AP) — An unemployed taxicab driver was held today while police checked his admission and subsequent denial that he killed two Ohio women, including the wife of Dr. Samuel Sheppard who is now serving a life term for her murder.

Police said Robert Clinage, 30, told police he had been paid $1,000 for each slaying by a stranger on a Cleveland street corner.

Lt. James McMahon said Clinage was seized in his hotel room after he telephoned police Saturday and admitted killing Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard in Bay Village and Mrs. Max Sternbaum in Mansfield.

Clinage later repudiated his story, claiming he was drunk, police said.

Mrs. Sheppard, wife of a Cleveland osteopath, was bludgeoned to death in her home, July 4, 1954. Sheppard was convicted of murder but he has consistently denied the charge and has filed several appeals seeking a new trial.

Mrs. Sternbaum, wife of a wealthy grocery chain owner, was slain in a grocery during an apparent holdup Dec. 5, 1953. The identity of her slayer was never learned.

McMahon said Clinage, before his denial, told of killing both women with a hammer. He said the weapon was buried at Lexington, Ohio. McMahon said Clinage's story was vague, but that he apparently knows "something" about the slayings.

Paul Herbert, one of the attorneys for Sheppard, said during the trial there had been "persistent reports that a cab driver was involved." Herbert is Ohio's lieutenant governor-elect.

can "come up with something better."

Sparkman and Sen. Bridges (R-NH) appeared together on a TV forum. Sparkman said he favors having the President take a strong stand, but contended only Congress under the Constitution can declare war.

Bridges replied the President must have authority to act quickly, lest a war be over before he could appeal to Congress. But he in his turn expressed concern over giving Eisenhower unlimited authority to dip into foreign aid funds.

12 Cases Handed To Grand Jurors

Report Expected
Monday Afternoon

The Fayette County grand jury had 12 cases for consideration when it was called into session at 9:30 a. m. Monday. It is not expected to report before late in the afternoon.

Rollo M. Marchant, who started his first term as prosecutor today, was presenting the state's cases for investigation.

Court was opened by Bailiff David Whiteside, and the invocation was delivered by the Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The oath was administered to the 15 grand jurors by the clerk of courts, Mrs. Dorothy West, after which Judge John P. Case of the Common Pleas Court appointed Joe W. Campbell foreman of the jury and delivered the charge.

The grand jurors, conducting their investigations behind closed doors, are Campbell, Wert Elliott, Vera Veal, Deane Draper, C. W. Perry, David L. Baughn, Robert Heath, Corvin Carr, Eugene Green, Robert Mayer, Gerald R. Creamer, Reynold Slaughter Jr., James W. Baughn Jr., Evelyn Lynch and Jessie Reese, the alternate seated for H. H. Elliott.

City Hears Sound Like 'Wild West'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hoofbeats and rifle shots made Cleveland's west side sound like the wild west for a time Sunday night.

A steer escaped from Cleveland Union Stockyards and eluded pursuers in a chase that covered several streets and lawns before rifle bullets finally killed it.

A policeman said it took nine shots to bring down the animal.

Mrs. Feger Dies

Woman, 100, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Ella Sandler, whose family says she was born more than 100 years ago in 1856, died Sunday in the Orthodox Old People's Home.

Money Problems Facing Solons in Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS (AP)—Where's the money coming from?
That was the question circulating through Ohio legislative halls today as the 173-member 102nd General Assembly started its 1957 regular session.

Money, or the lack of it, looks like the big problem for the Buckeye State's lawmakers, for the next six or seven months.

Before Ohio's senate and house begin to look at the state's flat-topped purse, they are expected to do a fast job of authorizing pay increases for the 14 members of Gov.-Elect C. William O'Neill's cabinet—perhaps as high as $30,000 for the highway director and $25,000 a year for the director of mental hygiene and correction. Both directors now are paid $12,000 a year.

The increases are designed to give O'Neill a chance of "drafting" qualified persons as departmental directors. The bill is due to be introduced in the house today and approved by both houses before O'Neill is inaugurated a week hence.

THE REPUBLICAN governor-elect probably will withhold announcement of any cabinet appointments until all appointees are assured pay increases. Some cabinet members now draw $12,000 a year and others $10,000. Most department heads are expected to be advanced to about $18,000 a year.

But the legislators aren't worried about pay increases for top officials. They are looking, for instance, at the $125 million tab for the state school subsidy increase in the 1957-58 bookkeeping period. That figure assumes the accuracy of semi-official predictions recently that 1957-58 school subsidy spending will be $93 million above that in the current two-year period which ends June 30. It also assumes that the Legislature must appropriate another $31½ million to cover the school subsidy for the present two-year period.

If the school money forecast is accurate, the school subsidy appropriation in this coming session will be almost $400 million.

How tough will it be for the lawmakers to raise the $125 million school subsidy increase? If they were to raise it with an across-the-board tax boost (which they won't) it would take a 12 per cent increase in every tax the state now levies.

While the school finance problem is the most dramatic, there are other big money headaches—a general pay increase demanded by state employees and the cost of payrolls for new mental and penal institutions. Local governments, too, are looking for substantial help from the state.

The Legislature has held firmly to a "no-new-taxes" policy for the last few years. Technically, the new Legislature may avoid "new" taxes in the coming session. Leaders are reported to be considering boosts in several existing taxes to bolster the state treasury against big new money demands.

Among these is the restoration of the one-cent sales tax on purchases of 9 to 40 cents. Another is the possible abandonment of the system by which Ohio charitable organizations get several million dollars a year by redeeming state sales tax stamps at 3 per cent of their face value. The redemption play was adopted more than 15 years ago as an enforcement measure. The penny tax on purchases between 9 and 40 cents was dropped 10 years ago.

All the lawmakers' concern won't be for money problems. Among others will be:

A PROBABLE revision in the workmen's compensation law.

Fair Employment Practices legislation.

A legislative attack on the problems of mushrooming cities.

Consideration of the plight of the six state universities with their expected influx of students.

Action to preserve and build up Ohio's water supplies.

The GOP-controlled houses of the Legislature aren't sure how long it will be before they get a message from the governor.

Interim Gov. John W. Brown would be wholly within his rights to deliver a message on the "state of the state"—a chore the governor traditionally performs early in the legislative session.

But he still hasn't made up his mind whether to deliver such an address or to pass the honor to O'Neill.

The GOP controls the 24-member senate 22-12; its edge in the house is even greater, 97-42. The senate will have eight first-termers—four in each party—but the house will have 30 freshmen, 23 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

Pay of legislators has been increased from $3,200 a year to $5,000. Legislators also are allowed 10 cents a mile for weekly travel between their homes and Columbus during sessions, free postage, stationery and other perquisites. Lawmakers also are immune from arrest while traveling to and from sessions.

957 Jews Arrive in Italy, Claim Ouster from Egypt

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—A shipload of Jewish men, women and children has arrived here from Egypt, telling a story of terrorism, imprisonment, expulsion and forfeiture of property.

An officer on the Egyptian passenger ship Misir, which brought the 957 Jews from Alexandria, denied the account. He said the Jews were well treated and left of their own accord.

Many of the arrivals said they expected the rest of Egypt's 40,000 Jews to leave soon. The Egyptian said those he brought out were mostly stateless and that two thirds of his country's Jews, who have Egyptian citizenship, will stay in the country.

Fewer than 100 of the arrivals have passports—as citizens of France, England, Italy or other countries. The families of many of the stateless have been in Egypt for three, four or five generations. They said it was hard to get Egyptian citizenship.

A once-wealthy Cairo Jewish businessman gave this reason for the exodus:

HUGE BUS RAMS TRUCK - 6 DIE — Six persons were killed, and 16 others injured in the wreckage of this huge double-decked bus when it rammed into a stopped trailer-truck laden with pipe near Lexington, Va. The bus was enroute from Memphis, Tenn., to Washington, D. C.

'Aims' Car at Officer; Driver Draws Four Fines

A Columbus man who allegedly tried to run down police Sgt. Walter Marshall with his automobile shortly after midnight Saturday was fined $60 and costs in Municipal Court Monday on a variety of charges.

Warren D. Mills was arrested around 3 a. m. Sunday in White Oak by Sheriff Orland Hays, after Marshall had chased Mills back and forth through Washington C. H.

The whole thing started, Marshall said, when Mills backed his car from its parking space on Court St., around the corner into Fayette St., a reckless operation offense.

Marshall stopped the police cruiser and stepped out to flag down Mills. The Columbus man stepped on the gas, and "aimed" his car at Marshall so that the officer had to leap out of the way to avoid being hit. Mills sped away, running through red lights at Fayette and Court, and Main and Court.

MARSHALL jumped back in his car and gave chase. "The man was probably doing 50 or 60 miles an hour," he said. "He was really giving that car a workout."

Hiding in alleys and backtracking, Mills finally escaped the pursuing officer and fled the city. Marshall called the Franklin County (Columbus) sheriff's of-ice, and learned where Mills might be headed. Then he called Sheriff Hays and asked him to arrest Mills.

Hays got his man. Mills this morning pleaded guilty to four charges and paid fines of $25 and costs for reckless operation, $25 and costs for resisting arrest, and $5 and costs on each of two charges of running a red light.

"He may have run more than two lights," Marshall said. "I couldn't see that far ahead."

Those who have been attending the Webster School have included those originally assigned to both the Webster and Washington School and Negroes who formerly attended the now abandoned Lincoln School.

The squabble over integration in this Highland County town was the subject of a lengthy court fight lasting more than two years. The school board sought to maintain the Lincoln School as an all-Negro school until new Webster and Washington buildings could be completed.

The National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People supported a Federal Court attack but U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati originally declined to order immediate integration.

He was overruled by the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, and the U. S. Supreme Court then declined to review the case.

Today, the T. J. Cope Co. of Collegeville, Pa., was to attach a quarter-inch cable to a float and blow it through the pipe. The firm offered to do the job free.

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion ripped through the Pennsylvania Powder Co. plant early today and set fire to a score of buildings.

First reports said three men were missing and believed dead. Eight workers were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, 20 miles west of this northern Pennsylvania community. Emporium is a rural community of some 3,500, 85 miles southeast of Erie.

"Everything at the plant was torn to hell," William Smith, a stationary fireman at the plant, said after the explosion. "It about shook the town off its hinges."

"We or our friends were hustled away in the night to concentration camps where we were not told of any charges against us. We were held in chains or in tiny, crowded cells. Then we were called before the police and were told: 'Sign this paper and you can go.'"

"The paper said, 'We swear that we wish to leave Egypt voluntarily.'"

The Jews said the Egyptian authorities told them they could take $288 per person and one or two small pieces of luggage not valued at more than $144.

About 100 of the Jews named various countries to which they would like to go, but most of them asked:

"When is the next boat to Israel?"

'New' Hungary Program Seen As Tougher

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed government, taking the wraps off its long-promised "new program," combines get-tough Stalinism with an appeal to the West for financial aid.

The program was issued Sunday from the premier's office in Parliament Building, ringed by protecting Russian tanks. It was broadcast as a 10,000-word statement over the Budapest radio.

The statement probably got its final drafting last week while visiting Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev looked on. The Hungarians were told:

"There is a dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary. . . . The counterrevolutionaries and persons who attack the legal order and the basic principles of the people's democracy have no freedom even if they mask their counterrevolutionary efforts by democratic slogans. The law will always punish them severely."

In an obvious reference to the Soviet-crushed revolt in November, the statement said:

"PEOPLE OF petty thinking or people who were masking themselves as Marxists set as their aim the disintegration of social order and the dissolution of it whereby they used slogans like democratization, de-Stalinization and others. . . . It is therefore a main task to strengthen the people's democratic installations and organizations. . . ."

The statement said "the government is planning talks with various public figures and non-party experts aimed at their participation in leading state affairs with the government." This indicated some sort of coalition government but did not mention any non-Communist parties.

The government pledged a continuation of the socialization of agriculture and asserted that "steps will be taken with all the severity of the dictatorship of the proletariat against people who damage agricultural installations."

The statement blasted Stalinists leaders Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero as well as Imre Nagy, who succeeded them and was ousted as premier by Kadar and his supporters with Russian help.

The government also proclaimed that it "respects the freedom of belief of all citizens and considers the standpoint of religious questions a private matter. It secures full freedom to the churches and confessions."

The statement said the recent revolt wrought damage of nearly $1 billion.

In Moscow, Pravda quoted Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath as saying that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has been invited to visit Hungary "in the spring."

"They wanted to build up worry with each call so that they would pay the ransom," Miss McDonald, flanked by two attorneys, told newsmen in the same bedroom from which she said she was abducted.

After she disappeared Thursday night, male callers phoned Karl and Mrs. Tubeni and Miss Mc-

Donald phoned Wilding. Plant and movie columnist Harrison Carroll. She said the men forced her to leave with them by threatening her sleeping children with a gun. She said she was taken to a house in the Los Angeles area where she was held most of Friday. The men gave her whisky and pills, she said.

"I hid them in the hollow of my cheek and later got rid of them," she said. "They apparently thought the pills had knocked me out." It was then, she said, that she phoned Carroll.

She burst into tears as she told newsmen how her abductors had hit her "more than once." She cried again when a reporter asked her, "Why?"

After she was found on the desert near Indio Friday night, police questioned her in an Indio hospital. Detectives at the scene backed up statements of her physician that there was no indication that she had been raped.

But detectives in Los Angeles said that she had informed officers that she had been raped.

Karl, speaking to newsmen later at his Bel-Air home, said, "This is the first kidnap I ever heard of where ransom money was not mentioned when the kidnapers phoned."

He said he wanted to know "if this is a kidnapping" or not.

Force Said Needed To Convince Reds

Mid-East Cool On Ike's Proposal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower's plan for blocking communism in the Middle East was viewed with misgivings today in most of the Arab world.

Reaction elsewhere ranged from enthusiasm in some Western European countries to cries of "rude interference" from Moscow. Non-Arab allies of the United States in the Middle East welcomed it.

The Eisenhower doctrine, aimed at preventing Communist encroachment on the Middle East, couples the promise of large-scale economic help to the area with a threat to use U. S. armed forces against overt Communist aggression. The President outlined it to Congress Saturday.

In Cairo, the reception was chilly but mild. Some Egyptians who had hoped the United States was ready to unveil a new policy of support for President Nasser were disappointed.

THERE WAS also the feeling that the doctrine would make it more difficult for Egypt to play off the Communists against the West, as in the past. There was fear that continued flirting with the Soviet bloc through arms purchases and other help would lead Nasser open to the charge of being a vehicle of "indirect Communist aggression."

Many Arabs throughout the area expressed disappointment that the President passed quickly over the Israeli-Arab dispute, leaving the United Nations to continue its so far unsuccessful efforts to solve this problem.

Sampling of opinion in Beirut showed general disappointment in the doctrine. But a number of Arabs found some "good things" in it, such as an implication of stronger U. S. support for independence movements.

Newspapers in Israel also were disappointed that the speech did not offer a remedy to the Israeli-Arab problem. But they welcomed the step as an entrance of the United States in the Middle East.

In Syria, where a pro-Soviet clique is in power, official quarters called the doctrine a "formal declaration of cold war."

A spokesman said the Middle East does not want a struggle between East and West.

Political circles in Iraq, which is aligned with the West in the Baghdad Pact, thought the doctrine seemed to touch the disease in the Middle East without trying to find the cause.

TURKEY, an NATO and Baghdad Pact member, gave the plan in Middle East. Premier Mendres said:

"One fact, that the Middle East will not be abandoned to its fate, is clearly understood. Peace and stability may prevail in the region."

Most Western Europe was gratified by the new policy. Papers in Italy found little to criticize in the plan except that "it came late."

A French government spokesman said, "The President has recognized the danger to Western Europe's stability and security involved in Communist enterprise in the Middle East."

British papers welcomed the plan as a step forward. Some were disparaging because they thought it came too late and did not go far enough.

support of his military-economic formula for blocking Communist expansion in the Middle East.

OFFICIALS commenting about them acknowledged that:

1. The administration considers the situation has changed since Oct. 31, when Eisenhower told a nationwide radio-TV audience that there "will be no United States involvement in these present hostilities," meaning the Israeli-British-French invasions of Egypt. He said "use of force is not the way to deal with international problems."

Eisenhower's new plan calls for fight-if-necessary authority coupled with military and economic aid programs. Its basic premise is use of force.

Actress Claims $80,000 Ransom Set by Kidnapers

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Marie McDonald of filmland says that an $80,000 ransom was set by the two swarth men who, she told police, kidnapped her.

The glamorous blonde actress, wearing a white nightgown, burst into tears twice as she told a news conference in her bedroom Sunday that the men said they hoped to ransom her for $20,000 each from these four persons:

1. Actor Michael Wilding, estranged husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor and Miss McDonald's escort in recent weeks.

2. Shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, twice married and twice divorced from Miss McDonald.

3. Mrs. Marie Tubeni, her mother.

4. Harold Plant, her business manager.

Dulles Contends Ike's Plan To Assure Peace

Secretary of State Gives Mid-East Views Before House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today that the way to peace in the Middle East is to make it "clear" that armed Communist attack would have to be met, if need be, by the armed forces of the United States.

"You may feel, I do feel," Dulles told a crowded public meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, "that there is in fact no doubt as to what the Congress would do if international communism set out on a piecemeal conquest of the world by war."

"But until the Congress has actually spoken, there is doubt in the Middle East and there may be doubt in the Soviet Union."

Delay would make such doubts grow, the secretary said, and he told the legislators, some of whom have expressed concern with the sweeping nature of the fight-if-necessary authority sought by the President.

"The purpose of the proposed resolution is not war. It is peace. The purpose, as in other cases where the President and the Congress have acted together to oppose international communism, is to stop World War III before it starts."

DULLES TOLD the soberly listening lawmakers that "a Communist breakthrough in the Middle East" would be a disaster reaching far beyond the confines of that area.

Dulles said Soviet domination of Middle Eastern nations would be "a major disaster for them."

It would be, he continued:

1. A political disaster "because then those nations, like the European satellites, would lose the national independence which they so ardently desire and which now they are beginning to exercise in full measure."

2. An economic disaster because "the principal economic asset of the area is petroleum and only the free nations offer an adequate market."

3. "A disaster for the peoples of the Middle East because they are deeply religious peoples and their spiritual suffering would be grievous if they were subjected to the fate of other religious peoples who have fallen under the rule of atheistic Communism."

In advance of Dulles' appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, several members posed queries concerning the proposal Eisenhower laid before Congress Saturday.

Discussion showed developing opposition to "blank check" authority to use foreign aid funds and to what Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) called "declaring war ahead of time."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), describing Eisenhower's proposals as "loaded with dynamite," said there is a chance Congress will vote them down.

But though both Democratic and Republican legislators raised questions about the plan, there was general agreement that Congress (Please turn to page two)

Snow Blankets Fayette County

An inch and a half of snow Sunday night blanketed the area, but much of it had disappeared by noon today.

The Fayette County sheriff's office reported half a dozen accidents due to slippery highways, all of them minor.

Coyt A. Stookey, local weather observer, said the snow melted down to only .08 inches of water on his instruments. Minimum temperature overnight was 29, and yesterday's maximum 31.

Snow prevailed across the nation yesterday, from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians. Columbus had about four inches during the day and evening.

Burns Prove Fatal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Mrs. Laura Ann Morgan, 76, died in Grant Hospital here Sunday from burns suffered Jan. 1 when her clothes were ignited by a gas burner in her home.

Parts of City, Rural Area Hit By Power Failure

Crews Have Trouble Locating Saturday Night Line Break

A power failure caused by the separation of a 12,000-volt line from an insulator west of Washington C. H. darkened homes and business places and shut off appliances in many areas Saturday night.

The outage, lasting three hours and 20 minutes, affected a part of the Washington C. H. business district, a part of the residential area in the vicinity of the high school, New Holland, Good Hope, Atlanta and the rural areas surrounding the three latter villages.

A. E. Weatherly, district manager for the Dayton Power and Light Co., said the failure occurred along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad right-of-way, just west of the Eshelman elevator, at 9:53 p. m., when one line separated at an insulator and dropped on another, causing a short circuit.

SINCE THE failure occurred on private property, repair crews had to walk several miles of line before the trouble spot was found. Once the line separation was located, repairs were made quickly and service was restored at 1:13 a. m. Sunday.

Hardest hit by the break were those installations operated by electric timing devices.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. service was not affected, although the phone company uses commercial power to charge batteries. Stand-by generators were being readied when the trouble was corrected.

Paul Dougherty, Ohio Bell Commercial manager, said emergency lanterns were used in the switchboard room during the outage.

Hi-Y Completes Worthy Project 600 Discarded Yule Trees Become Shelters for Game

Christmas trees that brightened more than 600 Washington C. H. homes during the Yuletide, today were providing a comfortable and safe refuge for small birds and animals at four places in Fayette County.

The trees were gathered from curbsides by a group of Washington C. H. High School Hi-Y members and taken to the city street department headquarters on N. Fayette St. last Wednesday.

Saturday, the Hi-Y boys loaded them on trucks and took them to the rural areas where they spread them along fences and piled them in fields as cover for pheasants, quail, rabbits and other small game on the C. E. Rhoad refuge.

Wilmington College Gets $10,000 Grant

WILMINGTON — Wilmington College has received a $10,000 grant from the Kettering Foundation, Yellow Springs, to make a study of microflora of the soil.

Dr. Frank O. Hazard, chairman of the college's biology department, will be in charge of the research program. Purpose of the research program is to study microorganisms in the soil, and ways in which they affect the soil by chemical transformations which help determine soil productivity, plant growth and nutrition.

Church Relief Group Sends Good Will Livestock Abroad

NEW WINDSOR, Md. — Heifer Project, Inc., of New Windsor, shipped 880 cattle, 507 goat, 72-600 chicks, 561 sheep, 399 pigs, 500 ducklings, 25 burros and 8,880 hatching eggs to 23 countries during 1956.

Contributors in Canada, Germany, Mexico, Panama, and the United States donated the funds or livestock required to send the good will shipments.

Recipients of the livestock or poultry are selected on the basis of need, ability to give proper care, and a promise to pass on first born offspring to someone else in need.

The most controversial shipment of the year was a gift of 55 dairy cattle to the Soviet Union. The herd was donated by church and farm people in the United States who believe that the shipment might bring better relationships between the people of the two countries. The Soviet government paid all transportation expenses as well as the return fare of the three volunteer American "cowboys" who fed the cattle on the ocean crossing.

There were two "Outside USA" projects this year. Evangelical Hilfswerk, a German relief agency, sponsored the shipment of 59 milking sheep to refugees in Greece.

From Mexico came 25 burros that were sent to Formosa. At the present time, the only available method of transport of the poorer people is on the backs of men. "Inside USA" projects include the delivery of dairy cattle to Negro and white cotton farmers in Mississippi. These small landowners are trying to change from one crop cotton farming to diversified general farming.

'Mystery Voice' Baffling to Cops

COLUMBUS — Authorities in suburban Mifflin Twp. today intensified their investigation of a "mystery voice" that has threatened to blow up homes and needed firemen by turning in 34 false alarms.

Police said a woman's voice has been making the telephone calls since Dec. 4. They said she has threatened residents with different kinds of violence, including threats to bomb homes.

Her calls Sunday sent firemen chasing four false alarms and sent ambulances to four different homes that had not called them.

Townsend To Start 'Poverty' Party

LONG BEACH, Calif. — With his 91st birthday coming up Sunday, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the old age pension plan leader, says he's going to launch a new political party in California.

Townsend says it will be the Women's Anti-Poverty Party. "It will be a party spearheaded by women, but of course we'll let the men in," he says, adding: "The Republican and Democratic parties are not concerned with the general welfare of the people."

'Baby Doll Look' Is Newest Style

LOS ANGELES — Milady will have the "baby-doll look" this spring and summer if California fashion designers and manufacturers have their way.

The "look" made its appearance Sunday in lace accents and trimmings on all type of ensembles. Silhouettes varied from the slim sheath dress to billowing bouffancy.

"Girls will be dressing like girls this year," said Abe Blum and Harry Lecover, co-chairmen of the California Fashion Creators Show.

Porter's Bakery Purchased by H. J. Orthmeyer

Ownership Change Becomes Effective Monday Morning

Porter's Pastries, a retail specialty bakery at 210 E. Court St., today was operating as usual, but under a new ownership.

Harold J. Orthmeyer completed the purchase from Ed Porter late Saturday afternoon after several weeks of negotiations. He took over when the doors were opened Monday morning.

Orthmeyer, who has similar bakeries at Sciotoville and Jackson, said there will be no changes in either policy or operation, the products or the personnel. Baked goods, from all kinds of pastries to bread and rolls, will continue to be baked and sold at retail in the future just as in the past, Orthmeyer said.

The name, Porter's Pastries, will remain the same, at least for the present, Orthmeyer said.

THE ORTHMEYER family — Mr. and Mrs. Orthmeyer and their two sons and three daughters, ranging in age from 2½ to 16 years — moved from Sciotoville into their home, 911 Willabar Dr., here Saturday afternoon.

Orthmeyer said he had "grown up in the bakery business, always in the retail end of it." He added that he has had years of experience in the bake shop, from preparing the dough, operating the ovens and putting the finished products on the retail counter.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter, who only recently moved into their new home on Briar Ave., said that, while their plans for the future are indefinite, they expect to continue to make Washington C. H. their home.

They came here 14 years ago from Dayton, where Porter followed his trade as a baker, when they bought the bakery from Mrs. William Foutch. The bakery had been established and run by Foutch for 14 years before his death.

Like Orthmeyer, Porter has been in the bakery since a young man. He was born on a farm near the old Sulphur Lick Springs Hotel in Ross County and started as youth to learn the trade in Chillicothe.

THE PORTERS, both ardent anglers, own an undeveloped tract of land about 30 miles south of Traverse City, Mich. Located near Bear Lake and about four miles from Lake Michigan, they have been going there for their vacations and fishing for the last several summers.

Porter said that he and Mrs. Porter probably will spend at least part of their summers in Michigan, but that they expect to come back here for the winter months.

Before the recent Suez outbreak, the continuing Arab - Israeli disputes had left the United States reluctant to allow more than token shipments of military equipment to either side.

3. Basic to the Eisenhower Middle East proposal is the idea that the United Nations is powerless to handle Russia in the Middle East and that any U. S. action would be taken only after a request from a country in the area. The Russians have used similar arguments in explaining why they sent the Red army into Hungary two months ago.

Judge's Office Scene of Alarm

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Burglar and jail break alarms went off simultaneously at the county courthouse. A deputy reported a noise coming from the district judge's office. About 15 officers rushed to the office with guns drawn. They looked in to find a startled District Judge Edwin L. Swope and his wife clearing up some office work. A short was found in the alarm system.

Pastors Endorse Legion's 'Back To God' Program

Association Assures Cooperation with National Movement

The Fayette County Ministerial Assn. Monday morning gave its approval to and assurance of cooperation with the nationwide "Back to God Movement" sponsored by the American Legion.

The action was taken at the association's regular monthly meeting, which was held in the First Presbyterian Church manse, after the movement had been outlined in detail by Paul Souther of Washington C. H., chaplain of the Seventh District of the Legion.

The ministers agreed to insert leaflets describing the movement in their weekly bulletins to the members of their congregations before the Feb. 3 "Back to God" services. The inside of the leaflets will carry a sermonette prepared by the Legion.

THE MEETING was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Charles Ware, pastor of the Gregg St. Church of Christ in Christian Union.

In the absence of the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, during the early part of the meeting, the Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, acted as secretary.

Other ministers at the meeting were the Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Berry Kennedy, pastor of the Southside Church of Christ; the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church; and Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church here and the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church.

THERE WAS some discussion of the application for a liquor permit by the Paul H. Hughes post of the American Legion, 212 N. Fayette St., but no action was taken by the ministers as an association.

However, the pastors of the two churches involved by their proximity to the Legion Hall, the Rev. Mr. Poe of Grace Church and the Rev. Mr. McMillin of the Christian Church, said the official boards of their churches had gone on record as opposing the issuance of the permit and would make formal protest at the hearing scheduled at the Courthouse Jan. 17.

THE Rev. Mr. McMillin was assigned to speak at special chapel services at New Holland High School April 3 and the Rev. Mr. Kennedy on May 5. The ministerial association has been cooperating with the New Holland schools for these monthly chapel programs.

A similar, but not identical, service is held at Washington C. H. High School. Here many of the services are conducted by students with ordained ministers appearing at irregular intervals. The Rev. Mr. Hand is to address the WHS chapel Tuesday morning.

The secretary reported a balance of $194.85 in the treasury. This money comes primarily from special contributions made at the churches throughout the year. The fund is used largely to maintain religious functions of the chapel at Memorial Hospital here. Magazines and Bibles are kept in the chapel for those who go there to seek comfort in times of emotional stress. "Upper Room" devotional handbooks also are given to the hospital patients.

The association's next meeting will be at the First Baptist Church at 9:30 a. m. Feb. 4.

Dr. and Mrs. Irvin Hyer, of Delaware, are announcing the birth of a son weighing eight pounds, nine ounces. The infant arrived at 5 a. m. Saturday, December 29 in the Jane Case Hospital, Delaware. Mrs. Grover Wilson of Chicago and Mrs. Chan Hyer of this city, are the grandmothers.

Dulles Contends

eventually will approve some program with the general outline Eisenhower laid down, although it may clamp some restrictions on the broad authority he asked.

The four-point program he outlined included approval in advance for his use of American military forces, at the request of any threatened Middle Eastern nation, to oppose "overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international communism," and provision for both military and economic aid to countries in the area.

FOR ECONOMIC aid, Eisenhower asked $200 million a year for two years starting July 1. In addition, he asked authority to use up to $200 million of presently appropriated foreign aid funds "without regard to the provisions of any other law or regulation." It is believed, however, that only between 50 and 75 millions of appropriated funds still are available.

The money angle is one that Chairman Thomas C. Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House committee said he wants straightened out at the hearings — whether Eisenhower wants 400 millions or 600 millions or what amount in between.

Gordon said he wants to know also whether Eisenhower plans to step up U. S. armed forces strength in the Middle East.

There were no indications at the Pentagon that the Middle East plan contemplates any immediate change in the nation's defense lineup in that area.

Committee member Burleson (D-Tex.) said Eisenhower already has power as commander in chief to use troops. But now that the question is publicly presented, he added, Congress has no choice but to back up the President before "world."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he expects "a number of amendments or perhaps a new resolution."

But he added that his party shouldn't be too critical unless it

Taxi Driver Admits, Denies Ohio Slayings

CHICAGO (AP) — An unemployed taxicab driver was held today while police checked his admission and subsequent denial that he killed two Ohio women, including the wife of Dr. Samuel Sheppard who is now serving a life term for her murder.

Police said Robert Clinage, 30, told police he had been paid $1,000 for each slaying by a stranger on a Cleveland street corner.

Lt. James McMahon said Clinage was seized in his hotel room after he telephoned police Saturday and admitted killing Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard in Bay Village and Mrs. Max Sternbaum in Mansfield.

Clinage later repudiated his story, claiming he was drunk, police said.

Mrs. Sheppard, wife of a Cleveland osteopath, was bludgeoned to death in her home, July 4, 1954. Sheppard was convicted of murder but he has consistently denied the charge and has filed several appeals seeking a new trial.

Mrs. Sternbaum, wife of a wealthy grocery chain owner, was slain in a grocery during an apparent holdup Dec. 5, 1953. The identity of her slayer was never learned.

McMahon said Clinage, before his denial, told of killing both women with a hammer. He said the weapon was buried at Lexington, Ohio. McMahon said Clinage's story was vague, but that he apparently knows "something" about the slayings.

Paul Herbert, one of the attorneys for Sheppard, said during the trial there had been "persistent reports that a cab driver was involved." Herbert is Ohio's lieutenant governor-elect.

He "came up with something better."

Sparkman and Sen. Bridges (R-NH) appeared together on a TV forum. Sparkman said he favors having the President take a strong stand, but contended only Congress under the Constitution can declare war.

Bridges replied the President must have authority to act quickly, lest a war be over before he could appeal to Congress. But he in his turn expressed concern over giving Eisenhower unlimited authority to dip into foreign aid funds.

12 Cases Handed To Grand Jurors

Report Expected Monday Afternoon

The Fayette County grand jury had 12 cases for consideration when it was called into session at 9:30 a. m. Monday. It is not expected to report before late in the afternoon.

Rollo M. Marchant, who started his first term as prosecutor today, was presenting the state's cases for investigation.

Court was opened by Bailiff David Whiteside, and the invocation was delivered by the Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The oath was administered to the 15 grand jurors by the clerk of courts, Mrs. Dorothy West, after which Judge John P. Case of the Common Pleas Court appointed Joe W. Campbell foreman of the jury and delivered the charge.

The grand jurors, conducting their investigations behind closed doors, are Campbell, Wert Elliott, Vera Veal, Deane Draper, C. W. Perry, David L. Baughn, Robert Heath, Corwin Carr, Eugene Green, Robert Mayer, Gerald R. Creamer, Reynold Slaughter Jr., James W. Baughn Jr., Evelyn Lynch and Jessie Reese, the alternate seated for H. H. Elliott.

City Hears Sound Like 'Wild West'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hoofbeats and rifle shots made Cleveland's west side sound like the wild west for a time Sunday night.

A steer escaped from Cleveland Union Stockyards and eluded pursuers in a chase that covered several streets and lawns before rifle bullets finally killed it.

A policeman said it took nine shots to bring down the animal.

Are We Soon To Discover New Worlds?

It begins to appear quite possible that the great part of the Universe which lies in the skies and all about us, may soon be opened to much more knowledge of what it all embraces, than anything we conceive of at the present time.

Inter-planetary travel talk is very much in the news. In many places studies along this line are being pushed.

The whole scientific world is attacking this subject with vigor. Even the magazine, Aviation Week, has made so bold as to predict that by 1970, a manned spaceship will circle the moon and return to our earth safely.

Naturally this is rather startling talk. However, reports from scientific sources would seem to make it not to be easily shrugged off.

Aviation Week tells of formation of a corporation in Sherman Oaks, Calif., to design plans for travel through outer space. On the staff are 17 doctors of philosophy and other technicians versed in trajectories and orbits, radar, electromagnetics, and nuclear engineering. These people mean business and probably they have the talent to push it through, if anybody can.

It will be a memorable occasion when the blue yonder vehicle warms up its power and makes ready for the great adventure. There will be a long line of folks eager for the role of pioneer on this new and awesome frontier.

There will also be a multitude of the rest of us perfectly content to sit and watch from the familiar porticos of Earth. We would like to know what's on the moon, but a lot of us have no idea of going there to find out.

We have visions, however, of many of the youngsters of today daring, courageous and eager to probe these unknown frontiers, who are just as liable to show the way as was Columbus in his eventful discovery of a new world which has today become old to us.

Much Fol-de-Rol Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—A glance in our 1957 crystal ball shows one thing clearly:

It will be the most memorable year since 1956:

The forecast is for a fast, fabulous, fantastic, frenzied, frustrating 12 months, full of much folly and fol-de-rol, a year formidable to the wise, fatal to the foolish.

Now is the time to lay in a good supply of vitamin pills. You'll need 'em by the handful to fortify you during the fateful year.

In terms of common sense and understanding, the foreign situation will become more foreign than ever. The greatest problem on the international scene will be how to keep the cold war in the freezer.

The greatest threat to world peace will come from inside the Soviet colossus, as its leaders split anew in a deadly game of "Russian roulette," each seeking to grab ultimate power.

A measure on the seriousness of the deepening world crisis will be the fact the French will top

ple only two cabinets

Other forecasts, some not as zany as they sound:

Anglo-American amity will increase, keyed by British declarations of a "forgive and forget policy." The declarations will be made just before the start of the annual rush of American tourists to Europe. However, European hotel rates will rise—to help pay for all that winter oil bought from the United States.

A new atmosphere of good will will pervade television, with Walter Winchell and Steve Allen taking turns emceeing for Ed Sullivan during his vacation.

Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin will wed in the greatest Hollywood marriage since Doug Fairbanks signed up Mary Pickford. The marriage will break up within three months, with both Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin saying they are still the best of friends and each blaming the split on "career troubles."

The outlook in other fields:

Politics—The South will develop a real two-party system—one

By Hal Boyle

for national elections, one for state elections.

Business—Big business will get bigger, small business will get lonelier.

Congress—It will start 86 new and separate investigations, each headed by a senator or congressman hoping his inquiry will make him a presidential possibility.

The White House—Every Republican wife who is invited there during the year will look around with an eye to how she'd like to rearrange the furniture in 1961.

Medicine—A new wonder drug will be announced for people to take who feel good and wonder what's wrong with them. A sure preventive for the common cold will be found at last—in the form of a government law that anyone who catches one will have to pay a tax on it.

That's about all the crystal ball shows now for 1957, except for one more flat prediction: There will be no major snow-slides in Florida.

Diet and Health

You've got to be as careful and considerate when visiting a hospitalized child as you would be when calling on the boss's wife. But you must dress differently.

Don't doll up in your Sunday best when going to see your youngster in his hospital room. Strange clothes make even mother a stranger to a sick little tyke.

Speak Naturally

Speak to him in a natural tone. Don't worry about being overheard by a nurse or a patient in the next bed.

Let him know that you and the rest of the family have missed him and that everyone is thinking of him. Tell him, too, about what has been happening at home, emphasizing what you and he are going to do when he gets out of the hospital.

Ask what he has been doing and encourage him to discuss what has happened to him in the hospital. It will help greatly to relieve his mind if he can tell you about the awful medicines he has taken and the way the needle hurts when the nurse plunges it into his arm.

Sympathize with him, impress-

ing upon him that you know how he feels. But at the same time point out that all these things are helping him get well and speeding his return home.

Don't let him dwell on his troubles, however.

To help keep his mind off them, take him some little toy, if the hospital permits. It shouldn't be anything complicated or exciting, but it should be enough to hold his interest for a while at least.

Of course there are the old standbys such as coloring and paint books. But you can probably think of something just as good, if not better.

Other Choices

Maybe the hospital will permit a bubble pipe. If not, a little music box might be just the thing. An underwater garden in a bowl can also be fascinating to a youngster, and a couple of goldfish helps chase loneliness.

So plan that hospital visit at least a few hours in advance. You'll probably make your youngster a lot happier and more content if you do.

100 Petition Sen. Lausche For Jobs in Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides to Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) estimated today that possibly 100 persons have asked him for jobs.

Ray White, the senator's administrative assistant, said only a small fraction of those could be hired.

"We'll be operating for a while with a skeleton staff of six," White told a reporter. "Actually, we don't know how many more we will need. We're going into this in a conservative manner."

White knows of one more key man who will join Lausche's staff shortly. He is Joseph Scanlon of Cincinnati, former executive secretary to Lausche in Columbus and outgoing administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation.

Scanlon, who is coming here next Wednesday, is a lawyer and may be called upon to assist in legislative research.

On the subject of legislation, Lausche says he will sit and listen for a while before getting "flamboyantly" into action on the Senate floor.

On his first day, he got some pointers from Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) on voting procedure.

Lausche's seat, in the center rear of the chamber, is directly across the aisle from the Republican side. Monroney sits next to him.

THERE HAD been considerable speculation over whether Lausche might vote with the Republicans in organizing the Senate.

He didn't, however, and it was during these exchanges with Monroney that Lausche first tipped off the way he was going to vote.

Monroney reported later that Lausche kept referring to "we" (meaning Democrats) and "they" (meaning Republicans) before the vote was actually taken.

Lausche plans to stay in Washington over the weekend, but hopes to go to Toledo next week for a day to participate in the dedication of Craig Bridge.

Ohio's senators split their votes Friday in the 55-38 vote by which the Senate tabled a motion to begin revision of Senate rules make it easier to end filibusters.

Sen. Bricker, a Republican, voted for tabling the measure while Lausche voted against tabling it.

6-Point Highway Safety Plan Due Before Legislature

COLUMBUS (AP)—Passage of a six-point highway safety program by the 102nd General Assembly is being asked by the Insurance Federation of Ohio.

The federation, made up of all branches of the insurance industry in Ohio, called for:

1. A driver improvement program through a demerit system that would rule repeated violators off the road.

2. Periodic inspection of all motor vehicles registered in Ohio.

3. Legislative study into expansion of driver training in Ohio high schools.

4. Licensing and regulation of adult driver training schools.

5. Addition of 200 state highway patrolmen.

6. Addition of 75 driver license examiners.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
E. K.: Can color blindness be corrected?

Answer: There is no known way of correcting this condition.

Our New Mid-East Policy

Whereas the new Eisenhower policy of intervention in the Middle East is probably the best that could be formulated at this time, the question must be asked why, if the United States in the end would have to assume the full burden of responsibility for the Middle East, was it necessary to push the British and the French out of that area.

The realistic answer undoubtedly is that our policy-makers believed that whereas Great Britain and France were unpopular as imperialistic countries, the United Nations could impede the enormous progress that Soviet Russia was making through its Egyptian agent, Nasser.

Thus the British and the French were forced out of Egypt by the decision of the United States but that, in no measure, stopped the Russian advance.

Nor did the United Nations Organization display any major capacity either in Egypt or in Hungary to arrest Soviet aggression. In Hungary, the United Nations collapsed altogether even suspending or dissolving or abandoning its commission of observers. In Egypt, the token force which separates Egypt from Israel has been unable to stop raids by the Fedayeen bandits; the clearing of the Suez canal moves slowly and Soviet Russia makes marked progress in Egypt and Syria.

The sacrifice of Great Britain and France to the policy of using the United Nations in a capacity for which it is not ready and to support a Russian agent in the hope of winning him over, has proved to be costly in the United States.

Unfortunately, these futile moves gained a measure of popularity at the time they were committed, first, because they were done by order of Eisenhower; second, because numerous persons still believe that it is fun to twist the British lion's tail; and third, because those who are so conditioned disliked to witness the conquest of Egypt by Israel which Moshe Dayan's army could easily have done.

There was another reason, probably a more important one than has been mentioned. It is that emotionally the whole American people are opposed to war. They have had enough war. They have consciously or subconsciously reached the conclusion that World War II was a tragic error; that the Korean War was futile and that the next war will be disastrous.

On the other hand, in a few short months, two historic phenomena have become clarified: one, that Soviet Russia is not invincible as has been proven beyond doubt by the heroism of the Hungarian people; Second, that Soviet Russia desires no peace, will push into any area where there is a power vacuum, and that the Middle East has become the current danger zone.

This being so, President Eisenhower has formulated a new policy which no matter how it is sugar-coated to be somewhat diplomatic, puts the United States in the Middle East on a war basis. It is not necessary for all the Arab countries to accept our armed assistance. Even if only one country accepts it, we shall be in that area in full force. Iraq will undoubtedly accept our aid; Iran will seek it; Israel will desire it. And the Suez Canal will have to be opened to world trade under international supervision or Nasser will be dealing with something stronger and more shapely than the United Nations mixed police force of embarrassed token contingents.

This is what the President's new policy means and it is a reaction as much to the Hungarian and the Polish situations as to that in the Middle East because when an empire put together by force cannot exercise sufficient force to hold its periphery, it is beginning to break up. That is the time to hit it and that is what the President is clearly doing. He has, in the new, indirect manner which controls diplomatic action, presented Soviet Russia with an ultimatum which, if it rejects it, will involve its satellites and agents in a war.

Curious that this should have happened so soon after Nehru's visit. The Kashmir merchant seems not to have done too well at Gettysburg where, it was presumed, he would do the snake-charming act. Or, maybe, he did not try too hard. Maybe he discovered that Ike was not a push-over and has, despite tranquilizers, a very bad temper. Who knows? We may never know except as actions and decisions disclose the atmosphere.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration, faced with the necessity of taking some kind of leadership in the Middle East where the British and French have been discredited, has acted dramatically but vaguely.

The President went before Congress Saturday with what has been called a program but which is really an outline for a program. And, for the most part, it was not new.

Its vagueness raised questions which may keep the Russians guessing. The questions will also keep Congress and the public guessing until Eisenhower's aides answer some of them.

Nevertheless, since action is needed at this time, and since some action seems better than drifting, Congress will probably approve some of what Eisenhower asked. Time and events will show whether his judgment was good or bad.

This country has given the Middle East economic aid. Eisenhower asked Congress to increase it. But how it will be used he didn't say. At this time he probably doesn't know since it isn't clear what Middle Eastern nation wants it or would accept it.

He told Congress he wants to give Middle Eastern countries military assistance — arms — and this idea is not new although Secretary of State Dulles has been hemming and hawing for months about giving that area arms.

He did give giving Egyptian President Nasser arms until Nasser got them from Russia. He wouldn't sell arms to Israel but left the door open for American allies to supply the Israelis, which they did. He let tanks go to Saudi Arabia.

Last Feb. 4 Dulles said this country "does not exclude the possibility of arms sales" to Israel and the Arab states "when it will preserve peace." Arms for prolike Turkey and Iraq, may preserve peace.

He asked Congress for approval beforehand to use American armed forces in the Middle East to help any nation which asked for it to stop "overt aggression" by a nation controlled by international communism.

Did he really need this standby authority because of some emergency of which the general public doesn't know? Or did he ask it simply as a psychological jolt to the Russians and Middle East Communists? Almost certainly the latter.

Dulles himself, judging from what he said at an April 3 news conference last year, believes that in an emergency the President could use the armed forces without asking Congress first although he preferred getting a congressional okay.

He said the President would not ask Congress' approval unless there was an emergency: "We do now know of any . . . emergency and since we do not know of it we do not have any present plans to seek congressional action."

There is no indication, unless the administration has information withheld from the public, that Russia intends an attack anywhere. Then what "overt" aggression was Eisenhower talking about? He didn't say.

But except for the economic help intended to stabilize Middle Eastern nations, and arms to quell rebellion, he offered no plan at all for what seems a far more immediate danger in the area: take-over by the Communists from within a country.

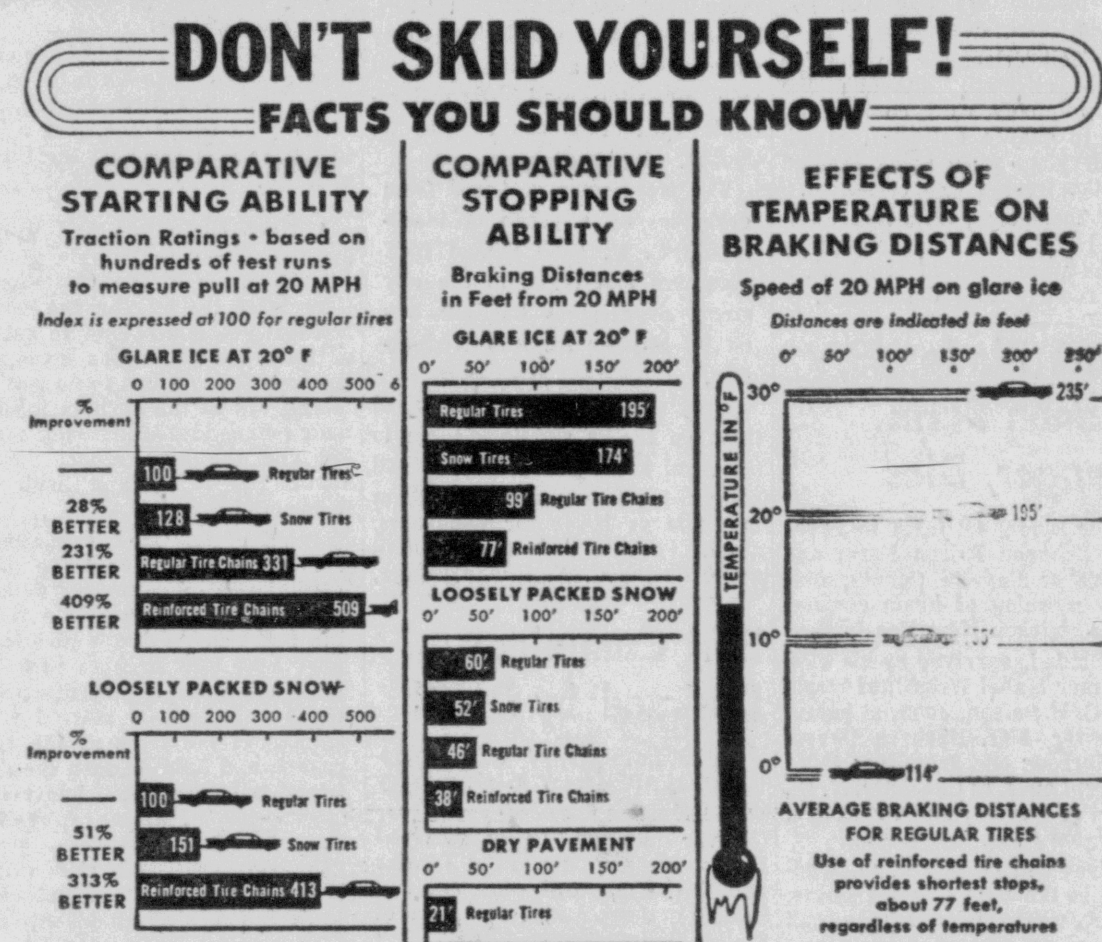

Old Yule Trees Halt Wind Damage

WESTERLY, R. I. (AP)—The discarded symbol of Christmas was buried Sunday on a wind swept beach to help halt some of the ravages of nature. A mile long crest of Christmas trees from homes in Westerly and nearby Pawcatuck, Conn. were planted by Boy Scouts and Chamber of Commerce members in an attempt to stop wind and sea erosion at Masquamicut Beach.

Floridians Go Fishing for Soap

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Soap fishing was the No. 1 sport on the St. Johns river at Jacksonville Sunday. The soap, cargo of a barge that sank, began floating to the surface in the downtown section. There were thousands of bars of it. Police reported people in boats and along the bank were using "crab nets, dip nets and everything else including rakes."

More than a million copies the 972-page novel, "Forever Amber," have been published. Author Kathleen Winsor also got $200,000 for the movie rights.

Parts of City, Rural Area Hit By Power Failure

Crews Have Trouble Locating Saturday Night Line Break

A power failure caused by the separation of a 12,000-volt line from an insulator west of Washington C. H. darkened homes and business places and shut off appliances in many areas Saturday night.

The outage, lasting three hours and 20 minutes, affected a part of the Washington C. H. business district, a part of the residential area in the vicinity of the high school, New Holland, Good Hope, Atlanta and the rural areas surrounding the three latter villages.

A. E. Weatherly, district manager for the Dayton Power and Light Co., said the failure occurred along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad right-of-way, just west of the Eshelman elevator, at 9:53 p. m., when one line separated at an insulator and dropped on another, causing a short circuit.

SINCE THE failure occurred on private property, repair crews had to walk several miles of line before the trouble spot was found. Once the line separation was located, repairs were made quickly and service was restored at 1:13 a. m. Sunday.

Hardest hit by the break were those installations operated by electric timing devices.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. service was not affected, although the phone company uses commercial power to charge batteries. Stand-by generators were being readied when the trouble was corrected.

Paul Dougherty, Ohio Bell Commercial manager, said emergency lanterns were used in the switchboard room during the outage.

Jasper Blade, 43, Lebanon Farm Manager, Dies

Jasper Blade, 43, farm manager at the Lebanon Prison Farm and a native of Fayette County, died Sunday morning of heart disease. He was stricken New Year's Eve.

Mr. Blade survived by his wife, the former Mabel Wright, of Washington C. H.; a son, John, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Davenport, Morrow; one grandson; three brothers, Lewis, of Charlotte, N. C., Herbert of Dayton, and Frank Sr., of Washington C. H.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Vale Funeral Home, Morrow, where friends may call after 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Dixie Secrest Dies at Wilmington

SABINA — Services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Littleton Funeral Home for Mrs. Dixie Secrest, 44, of near Port William, who died at 11:25 p. m. Saturday in Clinton Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, where she had been admitted six hours earlier. Death was due to heart disease.

Mrs. Secrest leaves two sons, Delano, of Route 2, Jamestown, and Harold, of Route 3, Sabina; five daughters, Mrs. Amy Zurfue, Wilmington, Mrs. Phyllis Newman, Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. Peggy Ross, Route 1, Jamestown, Nancy of Orlean, and Judith, of Route 3, Sabina; two grandchildren; her father, Charles W. Funk, Route 1, Sabina; four brothers, George Funk, Clarksville, Charles E. of Morrisville, Claude, Sabina Route 1, and James, Piketon.

She was a member of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Charles Kirsch, pastor of the Sabina Methodist Church, will conduct the services which will be followed by burial in Sabina Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

600 Discarded Yule Trees Become Shelters for Game

Christmas trees that brightened more than 600 Washington C. H. homes during the Yuletide, today were providing a comfortable and safe refuge for small birds and animals at four places in Fayette County.

The trees were gathered from curbsides by a group of Washington C. H. High School Hi-Y members and taken to the city street department headquarters on N. Fayette St. last Wednesday.

Saturday, the Hi-Y boys loaded them on trucks and took them to the rural areas where they spread them along fences and piled them in fields as cover for pheasants, quail, rabbits and other small game on the C. E. Rhoad refuge.

Earl Cummings Claimed by Death

Earl Cummings, 41, of Washington C. H., died at 7 a. m. Sunday in a Gallipolis Hospital.

Never married, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Paul Dowler and Mrs. William Slavens, and two brothers, John and Ralph, all of Washington C. H.

Services will be at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home where friends may call at any time. The Rev. Charles Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, will officiate, and burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Committal Services Conducted for Infant

Committal services for the infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dick Junk, Route 5, who died at birth Sunday morning in Memorial Hospital, were held at 10 a. m. Monday in Washington Cemetery, with the Rev. L. J. Poe officiating. Arrangements were in charge of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here.

Survivors, besides the parents, are two brothers, Paul and Gary; a sister, Marilyn; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Junk, Frankfort, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dwyer, Greenfield.

Wilmington College Gets $10,000 Grant

WILMINGTON — Wilmington College has received a $10,000 grant from the Kettering Foundation, Yellow Springs, to make a study of microflora of the soil.

Dr. Frank O. Hazard, chairman of the college's biology department, will be in charge of the research program. Purpose of the research program is to study microorganisms in the soil, and ways in which they affect the soil by chemical transformations which help determine soil productivity, plant growth and nutrition.

Church Relief Group Sends Good Will Livestock Abroad

NEW WINDSOR, Md. — Heifer Project, Inc., of New Windsor, shipped 880 cattle, 507 goat, 72-600 chicks, 561 sheep, 390 pigs, 500 ducklings, 25 burros and 8,880 hatching eggs to 23 countries during 1956.

Contributors in Canada, Germany, Mexico, Panama, and the United States donated the funds or livestock required to send the good will shipments.

Recipients of the livestock or poultry are selected on the basis of need, ability to give proper care, and a promise to pass on first born offspring to someone else in need.

The most controversial shipment of the year was a gift of 55 dairy cattle to the Soviet Union. The herd was donated by church and farm people in the United States who believe that the shipment might bring better relationships between the people of the two countries. The Soviet government paid all transportation expenses as well as the return fare of the three volunteer American "cowboys" who fed the cattle on the ocean crossing.

There were two "Outside USA" projects this year. Evangelisch Hilfswerk, a German relief agency, sponsored the shipment of 59 milking sheep to refugees in Greece.

From Mexico came 25 burros that were sent to Formosa. At the

'Mystery Voice' Baffling to Cops

COLUMBUS — Authorities in suburban Midflin Twp. today intensified their investigation of a "mystery voice" that has threatened to blow up homes and needed firemen by turning in 34 false alarms.

Police said a woman's voice has been making the telephone calls since Dec. 4. They said she has threatened residents with different kinds of violence, including threats to bomb homes.

Her calls Sunday sent firemen chasing four false alarms and sent ambulances to four different homes that had not called them.

Townsend To Start 'Poverty' Party

LONG BEACH, Calif. — With his 91st birthday coming up Sunday, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the old age pension plan leader, says he's going to launch a new political party in California.

Townsend says it will be the Women's Anti-Poverty Party.

"It will be a party spearheaded by women, but of course we'll let the men in," he says, adding: "The Republican and Democratic parties are not concerned with the general welfare of the people."

'Baby Doll Look' Is Newest Style

LOS ANGELES — Milady will have the "baby-doll look" this spring and summer if California fashion designers and manufacturers have their way.

The "look" made its appearance Sunday in lace accents and trimmings on all type of ensembles. Silhouettes varied from the slim sheath dress to billowing bouffant.

"Girls will be dressing like girls this year," said Abe Blum and Harry Leover, co-chairmen of the California Fashion Creators Show.

Third Quint Dies

ANDRAS, India — The third of India's quintuplets has died. Authorities at Pondicherry Hospital said the other two week-old girls are "getting on well."

3 of 4 Hamilton Escapees Nabbed

HAMILTON — Police today hunted a Hamilton youth, only one still free of four juveniles who broke out of the Butler County jail Saturday.

Two were returned to custody shortly after the escape. The third was captured by Middletown police Sunday night.

The four—two Hamilton youths, age 16, charged with a cafe robbery and two Middletown boys, age 14, held in a car theft—sawed loose the bars of a window and reached an adjoining building.

Cincy Editor Dies

CINCINNATI — Everett M. Boyd, 62, associate vice-president and editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, died today. He complained of pains in his chest Sunday night and died shortly thereafter.

Stork Due Soon

MONTE CARLO — Doctors attending Princess Grace of Monaco again today moved forward the date her baby is expected. This time the prediction is Jan. 20.

15 Aides Planned

COLUMBUS — Atty. General William Saxbe plans to reappoint 15 attorneys general upon taking office next Monday. Saxbe will succeed C. William O'Neill, who becomes governor.

Turkey Talks Near

CINCINNATI — Poultry raisers from all parts of the country gather here today to talk turkey for five days. It's the ninth winter convention of the National Turkey Federation.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Suppose I take you back 40 years ago and give you some interesting things which occurred during this week in 1917, and at frequent intervals, give you additional information regarding events up to 10 or 15 years ago.

Well, here goes for "Some Forty Years Ago!"

Jess W. Smith's Department Store, located where Cussins and Fearn Store now is, advertised a clearance sale of women's and children's coats at $2.95 to $3.95.

Dr. Henry W. Bromley's religious campaign got under way in a special tabernacle built on the city lot on Market St., where Pure Oil Service Station is located. Attendance up to 1,800 nightly.

Police Chief D. L. Moore warned motorists to get their 1917 license tags without delay or face arrest.

James M. Cox was inaugurated governor with the greatest throng ever attending an inauguration in Ohio.

William Hooker closed his restaurant and pool room on E. Court St.

The former YMCA physical director here, John T. McClung was making good as director of the Evansville, Ind., YMCA.

C. E. Lloyd bought Frank McDowell grain elevator at Bloomington.

Dental inspection of children was authorized in city schools by board of education.

Edgar P. Campbell of near Camp Grove trapped an American Bald eagle on his premises, and killed it for large hawk. It measured six feet eight inches from tip to tip.

The Washington Milling Company held its annual election, and J. E. McLean was named president, D. S. Craig, vice president, and W. W. Hamilton, secretary treasurer.

City council, with little debate, tabled the question of submitting the matter of a charter form of government to the voters. Prominent citizens announced petitions would be circulated calling for an election on the charter form of government, since Council failed to act on the question.

Dutch Treat Club, meeting in the YMCA, had roast pig for lunch. Bloomingburg Farmer's Institute held. R. G. Jefferson, president.

Word was received that Company M would entrain from Mexico a border for home about Jan. 15. Entire Fourth Ohio Regiment took part in effort to apprehend Gen. Pancho Villa, across border.

Mayor John Oster reported 322 arrests in 1916, and total receipts in fines and license of $990.02.

Council voted to sell city lot on Market Street, and the mayor asks that funds be used to buy Myers building south of city building, where police headquarters is now located.

Ortman Motor Co. held election. P. F. Ortman: president, W. M. Campbell, vice president, and H. B. Dahl, treasurer, M. E. Hitchcock, secretary and assistant treasurer.

Many vacant houses in city filling up.

Buffalo Bill (William F. Cody) died in Denver, Colo.

Mayor John Oster urges complete motorization of the fire department.

Big rat hunt organized at Madison Mills, with Mayor O. W. Creath Bloomingburg, manager; Tolen E. Brown, secretary; Frank Dorn, treasurer; Col. Maynard Eckle and E. L. King, captains, and Bat Vance and Vernaldo Crow, tail counters.

Eggs selling (to dealers) at 45 cents a dozen and price still mounting.

Large frame house of George Cox, Washington Ave., gutted by fire. Motorized fire pumper failed to work.

Fayette County Creamery located on Columbus Ave., announced 400,000 pounds of butter churned the past year.

THE BELL BUZZARD

Covering a period of 25 years or longer, a buzzard with a bell about its neck was reported several times in Fayette County, other points in the state, and as far south as Tennessee.

It has now been many years since the "bell buzzard" as it became known, has been reported, and the presumption is that the famous bird is dead, or at least has lost its bell.

Just how the bell came to be around the bird's neck is not known, but dozens of persons saw the bird at comparatively close range, heard the tinkling of the bell, and even saw the bell suspended about its neck.

It was noted that the "bell buzzard" was never seen with other buzzards, and the belief was expressed that the tinkling bell made him unpopular with the others of the species who probably were afraid of the bird with the bell.

The last time the "bell buzzard" was reported in Fayette County was by Omar F. Sturgeon, who lives several miles south of Washington. C. H. Sturgeon obtained a good look at the bird at close range. That was 18 or 20 years ago.

FOR ACID SOIL

Apparently it is not generally known, but pine needles, such as those on the ordinary pine Christmas tree, are excellent for making acid soil.

In fact some of the plants requiring the most acid soil, like some of the wild orchids, grow under pine trees where the needles are thick and the soil extremely acid.

I have tried the needles from pine trees as acid soil builders and found the results satisfactory.

Next time you have a pine tree for Christmas and want a small plot of ground, particularly about evergreen trees to be acid, place the needles on the spot.

Upturn Seen In Advertising During 1957

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee report says Commerce Department figures forecast "an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers" in 1957.

In its report filed Friday, the House Commerce Committee also said it appears there will be an "adequate supply" of newsprint this year.

The report said domestic newsprint consumption probably will total about 5.5 billion tons. The available supply should exceed this by about 125,000 tons, it said.

About 74 per cent of the total anticipated supply this year would come from Canada, with domestic production amounting to about 24 per cent. The remaining 2 per cent would come from overseas.

The committee made no mention of an announcement two days ago by Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., a major Canadian producer, that its newsprint prices would be boosted $4 a ton March 1.

Concerning advertising, the report said:

"During the latter part of 1956, statistics on newspaper advertising show a leveling off in advertising volume. However, it is expected that during 1957 there will again be an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers, in an effort to dispose of goods and services resulting from the continued expansion in industrial capacity generally.

"Therefore, competition for the consumer's dollar may likely be keener in 1957 than in the last few years."

Middletown Clinic

Getting New Chief

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—Walter A. Mischley, a Cincinnati engineer is slated to take over as administrator of Middletown Hospital today for Walter O. Bohman, 42, who was critically injured in a traffic crash.

Hospital trustees said Mischley, 36, was named assistant administrator, but agreed to take over active direction of the 300-bed hospital until Bohman returns. Bohman was injured Friday when his car struck a concrete bridge on U. S. 25 near Monroe.

New GI Bill Seen Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Teague (D-Tex.) of the House Veterans Committee said today he will hold hearings looking toward a GI Bill of Rights for men who didn't get into uniform in time to qualify for Korean War benefits.

Both Teague and Rep. Ayres of Ohio, a senior committee Republican, said they favored new legislation for peacetime veterans.

Their comments indicated a drive in the 85th Congress for another GI Bill.

U. S. Steelmen Predict Boom During 1957

Record Production Expected; No Labor Trouble in Sight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steelmen are predicting a record production year for 1957, with an output of 120 million tons expected, "Steel" Magazine said today.

An increase in steelmaking capacity and a three-year labor contract, which means that the industry will not be plagued with labor troubles this year, are major factors indicating that 1957 could be the greatest production year for steel, the magazine said.

"Steelmen are forecasting that 1957 will be a record output year, overtaking the present high of 117,036,035 tons made in 1955," the metalworking weekly said. "A 120-million-ton yield would be a 4.3 per cent step-up over 1956's 115 million tons."

The new official annual capacity figure for the industry for 1957 is 133,459,150 net tons, compared with 1956's 128,363,000 tons. Last year's production represented 89.6 per cent of the official capacity.

In order to reach the production level predicted for this year, the mills would have to operate at 90 per cent of capacity.

"Steel" said the capacity figure would continue to grow this year—probably more than it did in 1956.

"The steel industry has around 1 million tons of new steelmaking capacity under construction and around six million tons of it should be completed this year, compared with over five million tons last year," the publication said.

The magazine said the new contract signed following a midsummer strike by steelworkers last year would keep the industry's production efforts from being plagued by labor troubles this year, but the pact would mean increased labor costs. The contract calls for wage increases next July 1 and on July 1, 1958, and also provides for cost-of-living raises.

"These labor costs increases, along with price jumps on most raw materials, will bring further price advances on steel," the magazine said.

The publication's price composite on finished steel for the week ended Jan. 2 remained at $137.98 a net ton, while the composite on steelmaking scrap dropped $1.33 to $63.17 a gross ton.

Steel mills operated at 100 per cent of the 1956 capacity last week, turning out 2,461,693 tons of steel for ingots and castings.

Are We Soon To Discover New Worlds?

It begins to appear quite possible that the great part of the Universe which lies in the skies and all about us, may soon be opened to much more knowledge of what it all embraces, than anything we conceive of at the present time.

Inter-planetary travel talk is very much in the news. In many places studies along this line are being pushed.

The whole scientific world is attacking this subject with vigor. Even the magazine, Aviation Week, has made so bold as to predict that by 1970, a manned spaceship will circle the moon and return to our earth safely.

Naturally this is rather startling talk. However, reports from scientific sources would seem to make it not to be easily shrugged off.

Aviation Week tells of formation of a corporation in Sherman Oaks, Calif., to design plans for travel through outer space. On the staff are 17 doctors of philosophy and other technicians versed in trajectories and orbits, radar, electromagnetics, and nuclear engineering. These people mean business and probably they have the talent to push it through, if anybody can.

It will be a memorable occasion when the blue yonder vehicle warms up its power and makes ready for the great adventure. There will be a long line of folks eager for the role of pioneer on this new and awesome frontier.

There will also be a multitude of the rest of us perfectly content to sit and watch from the familiar porticos of Earth. We would like to know what's on the moon, but a lot of us have no idea of going there to find out.

We have visions, however, of many of the youngsters of today daring, courageous and eager to probe these unknown frontiers, who are just as liable to show the way as was Columbus in his eventful discovery of a new world which has today become old to us.

Visit to Sick Child Needs Consideration

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You've got to be as careful and considerate when visiting a hospitalized child as you would be when calling on the boss's wife. But you must dress differently.

Don't doll up in your Sunday best when going to see your youngster in his hospital room. Strange clothes make even mother a stranger to a sick little tyke.

Speak Naturally

Speak to him in a natural tone. Don't worry about being overheard by a nurse or a patient in the next bed.

Let him know that you and the rest of the family have missed him and that everyone is thinking of him. Tell him, too, about what has been happening at home, emphasizing what you and he are going to do when he gets out of the hospital.

Ask what he has been doing and encourage him to discuss what has happened to him in the hospital. It will help greatly to relieve his mind if he can tell you about the awful medicines he has taken and the way the needle hurts when the nurse plunges it into his arm.

Sympathize with him, impress-

ing upon him that you know how he feels. But at the same time point out that all these things are helping him get well and speeding his return home.

Don't let him dwell on his troubles, however. To help keep his mind off them, take him some little toy, if the hospital permits. It shouldn't be anything complicated or exciting, but it should be enough to hold his interest for a while at least.

Of course there are the old standbys such as coloring and paint books. But you can probably think of something just as good, if not better.

Other Choices

Maybe the hospital will permit a bubble pipe. If not, a little music box might be just the thing. An underwater garden in a bowl can also be fascinating to a youngster, and a couple of goldfish helps chase loneliness.

So plan that hospital visit at least a few hours in advance. You'll probably make your youngster a lot happier and more content if you do.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. K.: Can color blindness be corrected?

Answer: There is no known way of correcting this condition.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration, faced with the necessity of taking some kind of leadership in the Middle East where the British and French have been discredited, has acted dramatically but vaguely.

The President went before Congress Saturday with what has been called a program but which is really an outline for a program. And, for the most part, it was not new.

Its vagueness raised questions which may keep the Russians guessing. The questions will also keep Congress and the public guessing until Eisenhower's aides answer some of them.

Nevertheless, since action is needed at this time, and since some action seems better than drifting, Congress will probably approve some of what Eisenhower asked. Time and events will show whether his judgment was good or bad.

This country has given the Middle East economic aid. Eisenhower asked Congress to increase it. But how it will be used he didn't say. At this time he probably doesn't know since it isn't clear what Middle Eastern nation wants it or would accept it.

He told Congress he wants to give Middle Eastern countries military assistance — arms — and this idea is not new although Secretary of State Dulles has been hemming and hawing for months about giving that area arms.

He held off giving Egyptian President Nasser arms until Nasser got them from Russia. He wouldn't sell arms to Israel but left the door open for American allies to supply the Israelis, which they did. He let tanks go to Saudi Arabia.

Last Feb. 4 Dulles said this country "does not exclude the possibility of arms sales" to Israel and the Arab states "when it will preserve peace." Arms for pro-Iraq and Iraq, may preserve peace.

He asked Congress for approval beforehand to use American armed forces in the Middle East to help any nation which asked for it to stop "overt aggression" by a nation controlled by international communism.

Did he really need this standby authority because of some emergency of which the general public doesn't know? Or did he ask it simply as a psychological jolt to the Russians and Middle East Communists? Almost certainly the latter.

Dulles himself, judging from what he said at an April 3 news conference last year, believes that in an emergency the President could use the armed forces without asking Congress first although he preferred getting a congressional okay.

He said the President would not ask Congress' approval unless there was an emergency: "We do not know of any... emergency and since we do not know of it we do not have any present plans to seek congressional action."

There is no indication, unless the administration has information withheld from the public, that Russia intends an attack anywhere. Then what "overt" aggression was Eisenhower talking about? He didn't say.

But except for the economic help intended to stabilize Middle Eastern nations, and arms to quell rebellion, he offered no plan at all for what seems a far more immediate danger in the area: take-over by the Communists from within a country.

Old Yule Trees Halt Wind Damage

WESTERLY, R. I. (AP)—The discarded symbol of Christmas was buried Sunday on a wind swept beach to help halt some of the ravages of nature. A mile long crest of Christmas trees from homes in Westerly and nearby Pawcatuck, Conn. were planted by Boy Scouts and Chamber of Commerce members in an attempt to stop wind and sea erosion at Masquamicut Beach.

Floridians Go Fishing for Soap

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Soap fishing was the No. 1 sport on the St. Johns river at Jacksonville Sunday. The soap, cargo of a barge that sank, began floating to the surface in the downtown section. There were thousands of bars of it. Police reported people in boats and along the bank were using "crab nets, dip nets and everything else including rakes."

More than a million copies the 972-page novel, "Forever Amber," have been published. Author Kathleen Winsor also got $200,000 for the movie rights.

Much Fol-de-Rol Expected

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A glance in our 1957 crystal ball shows one thing clearly:

It will be the most memorable year since 1956:

The forecast is for a fast, fabulous, fantastic, frenzied, frustrating 12 months, full of much folly and fol-de-rol, a year formidable to the wise, fatal to the foolish.

Now is the time to lay in a good supply of vitamin pills. You'll need 'em by the handful to fortify you during the fateful year.

In terms of common sense and understanding, the foreign situation will become more foreign than ever. The greatest problem on the international scene will be how to keep the cold war in the freezer.

The greatest threat to world peace will come from inside the Soviet colossus, as its leaders split anew in a deadly game of "Russian roulette," each seeking to grab ultimate power.

A measure on the seriousness of the deepening world crisis will be the fact the French will topple only two cabinets.

Other forecasts, some not as zany as they sound:

Anglo-American amity will increase, keynoted by British declarations of a "forgive and forget policy." The declarations will be made just before the start of the annual rush of American tourists to Europe. However, European hotel rates will rise—to help pay for all that winter oil bought from the United States.

A new atmosphere of good will will pervade television, with Walter Winchell and Steve Allen taking turns emceeing for Ed Sullivan during his vacation.

Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin will wed in the greatest Hollywood marriage since Doug Fairbanks signed up Mary Pickford. The marriage will break up within three months, with both Lassie and Rin-Tin-Tin saying they are still the best of friends and each blaming the splitup on "career troubles."

The outlook in other fields:

Politics—The South will develop a real two-party system—one

for national elections, one for state elections.

Business—Big business will get bigger, small business will get lonelier.

Congress—It will start 86 new and separate investigations, each headed by a senator or congressman hoping his inquiry will make him a presidential possibility.

The White House—Every Republican wife who is invited there during the year will look around with an eye to how she'd like to rearrange the furniture in 1961.

Medicine—A new wonder drug will be announced for people to take who feel good and wonder what's wrong with them. A sure preventive for the common cold will be found at last—in the form of a government law that anyone who catches one will have to pay a tax on it.

That's about all the crystal ball shows now for 1957, except for one more flat prediction:

There will be no major snow-slides in Florida.

Visit to Sick Child Needs Consideration

E. K.: Can color blindness be corrected?

Answer: There is no known way of correcting this condition.

Our New Mid-East Policy

By George Sokolsky

Whereas the new Eisenhower policy of intervention in the Middle East is probably the best that could be formulated at this time, the question must be asked why, if the United States in the end would have to assume the full burden of responsibility for the Middle East, was it necessary to push the British and the French out of that area.

The realistic answer undoubtedly is that our policy-makers believed that whereas Great Britain and France were unpopular as imperialistic countries, the United Nations could impede the enormous progress that Soviet Russia was making through its Egyptian agent, Nasser.

Thus the British and the French were forced out of Egypt by the decision of the United States but that, in no measure, stopped the Russian advance.

Nor did the United Nations Organization display any major capacity either in Egypt or in Hungary to arrest Soviet aggression. In Hungary, the United Nations collapsed altogether even suspending or dissolving or abandoning its commission of observers. In Egypt, the token force which separates Egypt from Israel has been unable to stop raids by the Fedayeen bandits; the clearing of the Suez canal moves slowly and Soviet Russia makes marked progress in Egypt and Syria.

The sacrifice of Great Britain and France to the policy of using the United Nations in a capacity for which it is not ready and to support a Russian agent in the hope of winning him over, has proved to be costly in the United States.

Unfortunately, these futile moves gained a measure of popularity at the time they were committed, first, because they were done by order of Eisenhower; second, because numerous persons still believe that it is fun to twist the British lion's tail; and third, because those who are so conditioned disliked to witness the conquest of Egypt by Israel which Moshe Dayan's army could easily have done.

There was another reason, probably a more important one than has been mentioned. It is that emotionally the whole American people are opposed to war. They have had enough war. They have consciously or subconsciously reached the conclusion that World War II was a tragic error; that the Korean War was futile and that the next war will be disastrous.

On the other hand, in a few short months, two historic phenomena have become clarified: one, that Soviet Russia is not invincible as has been proven beyond doubt by the heroism of the Hungarian people; second, that Soviet Russia desires no peace, will push into any area where there is a power vacuum, and that the Middle East has become the current danger zone.

This being so, President Eisenhower has formulated a new policy which no matter how it is sugar-coated to be somewhat diplomatic, puts the United States in the Middle East on a war basis. It is not necessary for all the Arab countries to accept our armed assistance. Even if only one country accepts it, we shall be in that area in full force. Iraq will undoubtedly accept our aid; Iran will seek it; Israel will desire it. And the Suez Canal will have to be opened to world trade under international supervision or Nasser will be dealing with something stronger and more shapely than the United Nations mixed police force of embarrassed token contingents.

This is what the President's new policy means and it is a reaction as much to the Hungarian and the Polish situations as to that in the Middle East because when an empire put together by force cannot exercise sufficient force to hold its periphery, it is beginning to break up. That is the time to hit it at and that is what the President is clearly doing. He has, in the new, indirect manner which controls diplomatic action, presented Soviet Russia with an ultimatum which, if it rejects it, will involve its satellites and agents in a war.

Curious that this should have happened so soon after Nehru's visit. The Kashmir merchant seems not to have done too well at Gettysburg where, it was presumed, he would do the snake-charming act. Or, maybe, he did not try too hard. Maybe he discovered that Ike was not a push-over and has, despite tranquilizers, a very bad temper. Who knows? We may never know except as actions and decisions disclose the atmosphere.

Experts To Study Contents of Odd Explosive Shell

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Some experts planned to find out today why a roughly-treated mortar shell kept its head and let a dozen neophytes keep theirs.

The 14th Explosive Ordnance Disposal unit planned to test the foreign-made 81 or 82 millimeter shell.

Stanley Tolbert, 12, and Gary Freed, 13, of Edgemere, found the shell in a half-submerged barge in North Point Creek Saturday. They tied a rope around it and dragged it 500 yards to the Tolbert home.

Two officers, called to the home wrapped the shell in a blanket, stuck it in the trunk of their cruiser and transported it to Fort Holabird.

New Officers of Mailbag Club Are Installed

Buckeye Chapter of International Mailbag Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tillis for the first meeting of the new year.

Mrs. Lovey Riley, president, presided over the business session and Mrs. Vesper Hicks, chaplain, led in the devotional period. Secretary and treasurer's reports were approved as read and the installation of new officers was conducted by the Grand Chapter President, Mrs. Luther Doughman of the Valentine Chapter of Springfield.

Mrs. Doughman presented the new president of Buckeye Chapter, Mr. C. B. Tillis, a red carnation, the flower of the Mailbag Club and gave him the gavel, telling him only to use it to the glory of God and the Club. Other new officers formed a circle around her and she stated that the circle was never to be broken. Other new officers for the new year are Mrs. Dale Meredith, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Tillis, delegate; Mrs. Arlie Ashbaugh, historian, and Mrs. Vesper Hicks, chaplain and news reporter.

Mrs. Doughman's closing words were very uplifting and encouraging to make the club members eager workers for the year. Well wishes were heaped upon the new officers and delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Tillis assisted by Mrs. Essie Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Ernest Fout and Mrs. Charles Jones.

Members of the Valentine Chapter of Springfield were guests at the meeting.

Members of Garden Club Hold Meeting

The January meeting of the Washington Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Hidy, with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Elza Woodruff, president, opened the meeting by reading the poem "After Christmas", and members answered roll call by naming a food for birds. The secretary and treasurer reports were approved as read.

A committee was appointed for the club's annual birthday party to be held in February and those on the committee are Mrs. Ray Bowers, chairman, Mrs. Ed Hidy, Mrs. Earl Horney and Mrs. T. N. Willis. A benefit party to help the club's finances was also discussed and it will be held on Monday, January 14.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Ray Bowers whose topic was "Tending Temperamental House Plants". She discussed different varieties of house plants and told of different bulbs to be planted indoors such as crocus, narcissus, tulips and others.

She also held a discussion on African violets and added that temperature for most plants is seventy to seventy-two degrees in the day time and sixty to sixty-five degrees at night. She also stated that no two people agree on all points concerning the propagation of raising African violets.

Mrs. T. N. Willis chose as topic for her program "The Four Basic Principles of Flower Arrangements". First is design — basic pattern of arrangement and it consists of a planned relationship among the component parts, flowers, foliage and containers. Second is scale — achieved by selecting materials reasonably related in size to one another and to their container. Third is balance — the grouping of materials within the pattern so that an impression of calmness and stability is created. Fourth is color — colors are ever present in flower arrangements, and focus point is the center of interest in an arrangement.

The Junior Garden Club members were guests and Mrs. Hidy gave them a house plant and an African violet. She also demonstrated how to start a violet from a leaf.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Summers served delicious refreshments.

Cecilian Club To Elect New Officers

The semi-annual business meeting and election of officers of the Cecilian Music Club, will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul S. Craig, Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock.

All active members are urged to attend and nominations for new active, associate and honorary members are to be presented in writing at this time.

Mrs. P. Ben Hummel will present "Elizabeth's Prayer" from Tanhauser with Mrs. Marion Gage accompanying.

The executive board will be hostesses for the meeting.

Presbyterian Women To Meet Wednesday

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Wednesday evening at the church, seven thirty o'clock.

A well planned program is to be presented, one which will be given to help the society have a sense of its own heritage, its outreach to other churches, and its plans for the new year. Mrs. Charles Pierson will render a vocal solo.

This Spring's New Fashions Slated To Call for Comfort

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of articles dealing with the latest in women's fashions.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—This spring it will be smart to be comfortable.

This is the big news New York designers are passing along to long-suffering American women. On the first day of a week of spring fashion previews for the nation's visiting fashion press.

As the first showings pointed out the trend, it became apparent that the new clothes are designed to conform to the natural lines of the body, to fit loosely and easily and to require no contortions of waist, bust or hips.

You won't have to wear a straining waist cincher to fit into your new spring suit or dress. You won't have to pad your bustline or struggle to elimi to your hips. The new fashions allow the body to move inside its clothing.

The general silhouette is slender, but not in the sausage-casing sheath manner. Designers employ many ingenious methods to ease the fit of the new suits and dresses while maintaining the slim line. Jackets of the new suits are short, ranging from just below the bust to just above the hipbone. Some are loose and boxy, some bloused in back, some semi-fitted, some tightly fitted.

The cape is an important new trend, being used instead of a suit jacket, sometimes as a part of the jacket, sometimes as an addition to the jacket.

The ankle-length dinner and later costume continues important in all collections, with full-length evening gowns much more numerous than the shorter varieties, except in junior collections.

It should be very easy for women to look their best this spring, because the new fashions are designed for comfort as well as flattery.

WHITE AMERICAN BROADTAIL enriches a costume of imported black and white tweed from George Carmel's collection. Straight-shafted, the coat is lined throughout with fur. Fur also overlays the flat collar. The costume is shown here with a black cashmere sweater.

hour will be enjoyed in Westminster Hall with Circle 1, Mrs. L. M. Hayes, leader, serving as hostesses. All women of the church are invited to attend.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Suppose I take you back 40 years ago and give you some interesting things which occurred during this week in 1917, and at frequent intervals, give you additional information regarding events up to 10 or 15 years ago.

Well, here goes for "Some Forty Years Ago!"

Jess W. Smith's Department Store, located where Cussins and Fearn Store now is, advertised a clearance sale of women's and children's coats at $2.95 to $23.95.

Dr. Henry W. Bromley's religious campaign got under way in a special tabernacle built on the city lot on Market St., where Pure Oil Service Station is located. Attendance up to 1,600 nightly.

Police Chief D. L. Moore warned motorists to get their 1917 license tags without delay or face arrest.

James M. Cox was inaugurated governor with the greatest throng ever attending an inauguration in Ohio.

William Hooker closed his restaurant and pool room on E. Court St.

The former YMCA physical director here, John T. McClung was making good as director of the Evansville, Ind., YMCA.

C. E. Lloyd bought Frank McDowell grain elevator at Bloomingtonburg.

Dental inspection of children was authorized in city schools by board of education.

Edgar P. Campbell of near Camp Grove trapped an American Bald eagle on his premises, and killed it for large hawk. It measured six feet eight inches from tip to tip.

The Washington Milling Company held its annual election, and J. E. McLean was named president, D. S. Craig, vice president, and W. W. Hamilton, secretary treasurer.

City council, with little debate, tabled the question of submitting the matter of a charter form of government to the voters. Prominent citizens announced petitions would be circulated calling for an election on the charter form of government, since Council failed to act on the question.

Dutch Treat Club, meeting in the YMCA, had roast pig for lunch. Bloomingburg Farmer's Institute held. R. G. Jefferson, president.

Word was received that Company M would entrain from Mexico and Bdrder for home about Jan. 15. Entire Fourth Ohio Regiment took part in effort to apprehend Gen. Pancho Villa, across border.

Mayor John Oster reported 322 arrests in 1916, and total receipts in fires and license of $990.02.

Council voted to sell city lot on Market Street, and the mayor asks that funds be used to buy Myers building south of city building, where police headquarters is now located.

Ortman Motor Co. held election. P. F. Ortman, president, W. M. Campbell, vice president, and H. B. Dahl, treasurer, M. E. Hitchcock, secretary and assistant treasurer.

Many vacant houses in city filling up.

Buffalo Bill (William F. Cody) died in Denver, Colo.

Mayor John Oster urges complete motorization of the fire department.

Big rat hunt organized at Madison Mills, with Mayor O. W. Creath Bloomingburg, manager; Tolen E. Brown, secretary; Frank Dorn, treasurer; Col. Maynard Eckle and E. L. King, captains, and Bat Vance and Vernaldo Crow, tail counters.

Eggs selling (to dealers) at 45 cents a dozen and price still mounting.

Large frame house of George Cox, Washington Ave., gutted by fire. Motorized fire pump failed to work.

THE BELL BUZZARD

Covering a period of 25 years or longer, a buzzard with a bell about its neck was reported several times in Fayette County, other points in the state, and as far south as Tennessee.

It has now been many years since the "bell buzzard" as it became known, has been reported, and the presumption is that the famous bird is dead, or at least has lost its bell.

Just how the bell came to be around the bird's neck is not known, but dozens of persons saw the bird at comparatively close range, heard the tinkling of the bell, and even saw the bell suspended about its neck.

It was noted that the "bell buzzard" was never seen with other buzzards, and the belief was expressed that the tinkling bell made him unpopular with the others of the species who probably were afraid of the bird with the bell.

The last time the "bell buzzard" was reported in Fayette County was by Omar F. Sturgeon, who lives several miles south of Washington. C. H. Sturgeon obtained a good look at the bird at close range. That was 18 or 20 years ago.

FOR ACID SOIL

Apparently it is not generally known, but pine needles, such as those on the ordinary pine Christmas tree, are excellent for making acid soil.

In fact some of the plants requiring the most acid soil, like some of the wild orchids, grow under pine trees where the needles are thick and the soil extremely acid.

I have tried the needles from pine trees as acid soil builders and found the results satisfactory.

Next time you have a pine tree for Christmas and want a small plot of ground, particularly about evergreen trees to be acid, place the needles on the spot.

Upturn Seen In Advertising During 1957

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee report says Commerce Department figures forecast "an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers" in 1957.

In its report filed Friday, the House Commerce Committee also said it appears there will be an "adequate supply" of newsprint this year.

The report said domestic newsprint consumption probably will total about 5.5 million tons. The available supply should exceed this by about 125,000 tons, it said.

About 74 per cent of the total anticipated supply this year would come from Canada, with domestic production amounting to about 24 per cent. The remaining 2 per cent would come from overseas.

The committee made no mention of an announcement two days ago by Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., a major Canadian producer, that its newsprint prices would be boosted $4 a ton March 1.

Concerning advertising, the report said:

"During the latter part of 1956, statistics on newspaper advertising show a leveling off in advertising volume. However, it is expected that during 1957 there will again be an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers, in an effort to dispose of goods and services resulting from the continued expansion in industrial capacity generally.

"Therefore, competition for the consumer's dollar may likely be keener in 1957 than in the last few years."

Middletown Clinic Getting New Chief

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—Walter A. Mischley, a Cincinnati engineer is slated to take over as administrator of Middletown Hospital today for Walter O. Bohman, 42, who was critically injured in a traffic crash.

Hospital trustees said Mischley, 36, was named assistant administrator, but agreed to take over active direction of the 300-bed hospital until Bohman returns. Bohman was injured Friday when his car struck a concrete bridge on U. S. 25 near Monroe.

New GI Bill Seen Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Teague (D-Tex.) of the House Veterans Committee said today he will hold hearings looking toward a GI Bill of Rights for men who didn't get into uniform in time to qualify for Korean War benefits.

Both Teague and Rep. Ayres of Ohio, a senior committee Republican, said they favored new legislation for peacetime veterans.

Their comments indicated a drive in the 85th Congress for another GI Bill.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

U. S. Steelmen Predict Boom During 1957

Record Production Expected; No Labor Trouble in Sight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steelmen are predicting a record production year for 1957, with an output of 120 million tons expected, "Steel" Magazine said today.

An increase in steelmaking capacity and a three-year labor contract, which means that the industry will not be plagued with labor troubles this year, are major factors indicating that 1957 could be the greatest production year for steel, the magazine said.

"Steelmen are forecasting that 1957 will be a record out put year, overtaking the present high of 117,036,035 tons made in 1955," the metalworking weekly said. "A 120-million-ton yield would be a 4.3 per cent step-up over 1956's 115 million tons."

The new official annual capacity figure for the industry for 1957 is 133,459,150 net tons, compared with 1956's 128,363,090 tons. Last year's production represented 89.6 per cent of the official capacity. In order to reach the production level predicted for this year, the mills would have to operate at 90 per cent of capacity.

"Steel" said the capacity figure would continue to grow this year—probably more than it did in 1956.

"The steel industry has around 1 million tons of new steelmaking capacity under construction and around six million tons of it should be completed this year, compared with over five million tons last year," the publication said.

The magazine said the new contract signed following a midsummer strike by steelworkers last year would keep the industry's production efforts from being "plagued" by labor troubles this year, but the pact would mean increased labor costs. The contract calls for wage increases next July 1 and on July 1, 1958, and also provides for cost-of-living raises.

"These labor costs increases, along with price jumps on most raw materials, will bring further price advances on steel," the magazine said.

The publication's price composition on finished steel for the week ended Jan. 2 remained at $137.98 a net ton, while the composite on steelmaking scrap dropped $1.33 to $93.17 a gross ton.
Steel mills operated at 100 per cent of the 1956 capacity last week, turning out 2,461,893 tons of steel for ingots and castings.

College Cage League Leads Hang in Balance

Bucks, Purdue To Vie For Laurels; Other Loops Schedule Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conference leaderships hang in the balance this week as Ohio's college basketball squads bang back into heavy action with 52 games following the holiday lull.

Ohio State, off on the right foot in the Big Ten chase with a 72-60 win over defending champion Iowa Saturday night, meets Purdue here tonight in a game which must show one from the top. Purdue defeated Michigan State 72-71 Saturday.

John Carroll and Wayne, atop the President's Conference with 2-0 records, fight it out Saturday for the lead. DePauw (4-0) and Ohio Northern (2-0) the 1-2 teams in the Mid-Ohio League, also tangle Saturday.

Miami, far out front in the Mid-American with a 5-0 record to second place Ohio University's 1-0, goes against Western Michigan in a Wednesday scrap at Huntington and Bowling Green on the Falcon floor Saturday.

Muskingum and Mount Union are deadlocked for the Ohio Conference lead with 3-0, after two losses suffered by the Mounts in the Akron Invitational Tourney were erased by the conference. This week the Muskies entertain Akron Tuesday and visit Kenyon Saturday. The Mounts entertain Denison (3-1) Wednesday and visit Ohio Wesleyan (2-2) Saturday.

Last week found the Ohio squads winning 10 of 13 interstate games to boost their season record against outsiders to 64-45, with a scoring edge of 8435 to 7873. Host teams won 13 of 23, running the "home floor advantage" count to 103 against only 58 victories for visitors.

Last week's most astounding score was Dayton's 79-71 loss to Duquesne on the Gem City floor. Less than a week before the Flyers had dumped Duquesne 88 to 45 in the Louisville tournament. Canisius, which hasn't beaten the Flyers in four starts, visits Dayton Tuesday, and Xavier, loser of 15 of the last 16 frays with Dayton, is Sunday's foe at Cincinnati.

As the 40 teams go into this week's heavy schedule, only DePauw is unbeaten. The Jackets, with six straight, meet Tri-State at Angola, Ind., Tuesday night, and then go against Ohio Northern in Saturday's league contest.

Bloomingsburg Tops Pickaway 55-44

Taking advantage of the breaks of the game, Bloomingsburg's Bulldogs staged a spectacular rally in the last two minutes to trounce the cagers from Jackson Township High School, Pickaway County, by a score of 55 to 44, Friday night on the Bloomingsburg floor.

It was a nip and tuck game from the start and the Bulldogs were leading by only two points with only two minutes left in the game.

Scenting victory, the Jackson team shifted from its zone to a man-to-man defense to go out after the ball.

The Bulldogs, who had gone into a semi-freeze, were playing it cautiously to hold to their slim advantage. But, with the Jackson defenses loosened in desperation, the Bulldogs made the best of their opportunities to grab 11 points while holding the Jackson boys to two points.

UNTIL that game-ending spurt was made by the Bulldogs, both teams had concentrated on defense. But, with the score always close, the game did not lack for excitement.

Accuracy in shooting was the main factor in the Bulldog victory. The Bloomingsburg boys hit 80 per cent of their free throws and 40 per cent of their shots from the field. Sparking the offense were Jerry McCoy and Don Welsh. McCoy, shooting mostly from the pivot, got 15 points and Welsh, looping them in from outside the defense zone, got 14 points.

It was the sixth win in 10 games for the Bulldogs. Their only County League loss was to Jeffersonville's Tigers.

The Bloomingsburg Reserves won their ninth game in 10 starts when they beat the Jackson Reserves, 54 to 51, in the preliminary. Ten Bloomingsburg boys had a hand in the scoring. Leading the offense were Don Hidy with 10 points, Buddy Snyder with 11, Bob Riley with 10 and a promising freshman, Mike Evans, with seven points.

Robinson Involved In Small Hassle over His Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson — greying, serious and every inch the business executive — today found himself involved in a full-scale feud even though his baseball days are over.

The now-portly 38-year-old Robinson, who became the first Negro to play in the major leagues when he signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, crossed swords with Brook Vice President Buzzie Bavasi over the way the announcement of his retirement was made.

Robinson revealed his plans in tomorrow's issue of Look magazine. The story leaked out when some subscribers of Look received their copies before the magazine appeared on the newsstands.

Bavasi didn't like that and said so, adding that Robinson let down the reporters who covered the Dodgers and the New York Giants to whom he was traded less than a month ago.

"Believe me," said Robinson, a former UCLA all-around athlete, "I didn't intend to have things break this way. I signed with Look four years ago and it was common knowledge that when I decided to retire, I would do the story for that magazine."

"Imagine my feeling when I was traded on Dec. 12. The coincidence was all the more remarkable because I signed for a new job — which clinched my retirement."

Pro All-Stars Trip Collegians

HONOLULU (AP) — Norman Van Brocklin passed the Pro All-Stars to a 52-21 victory over some of the year's outstanding collegiate players Sunday in the Hula Bowl.

The Los Angeles Rams quarterback completed 19 of 20 throws for five touchdowns and, 281 yards before 24,000 shirtless fans.

Scorning placekicks, the former University of Oregon back dropped kicked four out of eight point after touchdown attempts. Three were blocked.

Notre Dame's Paul Hornung hit on 10 out of 22 pass attempts for 73 yards and all three of the collegiate touchdowns. Mississippi's Paig Cothren kicked all three extra points for the collegians.

OSU To Share New Research Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio State University will share in a half million dollar educational research program, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced Sunday.

The department approved 14 educational research contracts with OSU and five other colleges and universities. The department will provide $400,187 and the colleges will add $135,519. The individual contract amounts were not given.

K of C Aids Fund

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Knights of Columbus Sunday night presented a check for $15,000 to Archbishop Edward F. Hoban of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Cleveland. The money is to be used to advance Newman Clubs in the diocese.

Cage Leaders Rolling Along

No Halt Seen Soon For Kansas, Tarheels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Kansas and North Carolina, the nation's top-rated college basketball teams, will seek to increase their unbeaten streaks this week. There's little reason to believe they'll be stopped.

The Jayhawks, No. 1, can pick up their 11th victory tonight against Oklahoma and take over sole possession of the Big Seven conference lead. Both teams won their league openers Saturday night, Kansas defeating Missouri 92-79 as Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain was held to 23 points and Oklahoma with a 69-67 triumph over Kansas State.

North Carolina's Tar Heels (11-0), well rested after an eight-day, layoff, will take on William and Mary Tuesday night.

Most of the conference races look as if they'll go right down to the wire. Here's the way they shape up at the moment:

Atlantic Coast — North Carolina and Duke tied for the lead with 3-0.

Southeastern — Nip and tuck between Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee.

Big Ten — A tossup. Illinois was the preseason favorite.

Big Seven — Kansas appears too strong.

Southwest — Southern Methodist should repeat.

Southern — West Virginia leads with 4-0. Hot Rod Hundley canned 54 points as the pacesetters downed Furman 10-95 Saturday.

Skyline — Utah State in front with two victories against no defeats. Brigham Young and Wyoming next with 1-0.

Rocky Mountain — Idaho State, the perennial champ, again top with 2-0 although it shares lead with Montana State and Colorado State.

Missouri Valley — Oklahoma A&M is favored. Wichita and Tulsa also are 1-0. Pacific Coast — UCLA has run up 29 straight conference triumphs. The Bruins have 2-0 mark, same as Washington and California.

Bosseler Paces Southern Victory

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Washington Redskins Coach Joe Kuharich, who bossed the North team in Saturday's Senior Bowl football game, watched with mixed emotions while his Yankees took a 21-7 pounding from the South.

Don Bosseler, powerful University of Miami fullback, ripped the North line to shreds. He scored two touchdowns and set up the other South tally. Bosseler gained 189 yards in 28 carries and was voted the game's outstanding player by a wide margin. Bosseler will be on Kuharich's Redskins team next season.

Bomb Scare Ends Theater Showing
WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A false bomb scare at the Wichita Theater prevented more than a thousand spectators from finding out how "Giant," a film about Texas, ends.

When a man called the Wichita Falls Record-News and said a bomb had been planted in the theater and would go off in 10 minutes, the newspaper called police.

The film was stopped and the theater quickly emptied. A thorough search failed to turn up a bomb.

Three Local Cage Teams In Action Tuesday Night

Three of the four Fayette County high school basketball teams will be in action Tuesday night, two of them on their home floors. The fourth, Madison Mills' Warriors, will not play until Friday, when they go to Jackson Township in Pickaway County.

The basketballers from the Ohio School for the Deaf in Columbus are to play the Tigers at Jeffersonville Tuesday night, while the Darby outfit is tangling with the Bulldogs at Bloomingburg.

Good Hope's Mad Anthonys will be playing at Fairfield High School at Leesburg the same night.

THE LIONS of Washington C. H. High School will spend the early

2,235 Deer Killed in Ohio Statewide Hunting Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state wildlife division reports that it has received 17,000 hunter report cards showing 2,235 deer killed in the recent statewide hunting season.

The division said its early prediction of more hunters than in the 1955 season, but a lower rate of success, is being realized.

Based on incomplete returns, the division said it appears that the total kill for the four-day season will approximate 3,200 to 3,400,

Celtics Weakened By Injuries as Lead Lengthens

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics, steadily driving toward their first National Basketball Assn. divisional crown, today were faced with the lengthy loss of three of the men vital to the club.

In opening their Eastern Division lead Sunday to four games by defeating Fort Wayne 118-92, the Celts lost the services of veterans Arnie Risen, Jack Nichols, Dick Hemric is already out of the lineup with a double ankle injury.

While the Celtics were getting banged around, Philadelphia, closest eastern pursuer, lost to last-place Syracuse 128-123. In other games, Rochester moved into first place in the west with a 93-86 victory over St. Louis and New York handed Minneapolis its fifth setback in a row, 111-101.

Prexy Opposed To PCC Setup

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California Chancellor Clark Kerr says he'll seek changes in the Pacific Coast Conference's new financial aid code, approved in principle last Friday.

Warning against turning college athletes into "hired gladiators," Kerr said Sunday "I think this is a long step toward professionalism."

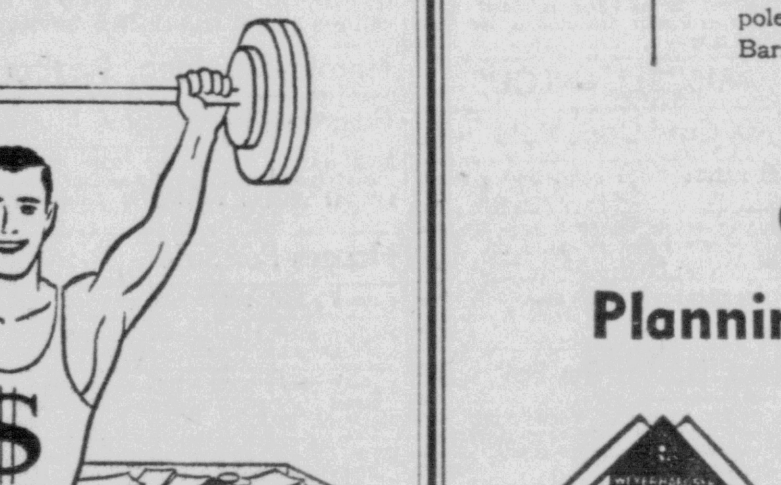

He explained he objected mainly to subsidizing an athlete during the season when he was not playing his particular sport.

Busso Is Favored To Top Courchesne

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Busso, one of the brightest prospects in the lightweight division, is a 2-1 favorite to chalk up his eighth straight victory tonight.

The 22-year-old New Yorker opposes Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Busso has a 27-3-1 record, including 14 knockouts. Courchesne, another 22-year-old, has a 46-6-2 record with 18 kayos.

Sports Aplenty Slated in Ohio

6 National Contests Top Buckeye Agenda

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sports fans won't have to go far afield for their 1957 thrills and chills.

The Buckeye realm will furnish the arenas for national championship events in at least six different sports this year, along with the usual sprinkling of purely Ohio contests.

Here's a partial list of what's on the 1957 agenda:

Jan. 18: Champion Carmen Basilio vs ex-champion Johnny Saxton, 15 rounds for world welterweight title at Cleveland Arena.

Feb. 22-23: Ohio high school wrestling championships at Lakewood.

Marc' 1-2: Ohio high school swimming championships at Ohio State.

April 11-June 22: Women's International Bowling Congress at Dayton.

May 13: Ohio Intercollegiate Golf championship at Ohio State.

June 6-9: Rubber City Golf tournament at Akron Firestone.

June 10-11: Ohio Junior Golf championship at Lima Shawnee club.

June 13-15: National Open Golf at Toledo Inverness.

June 17-19: Ohio Pre - seniors (40 to 49 years) golf at Columbus Country Club.

June 26-28: Ohio Seniors (50 and over) golf at Columbus Scioto club.

June 28-29: National AAU track-field at Dayton.

July 8-13: Ohio Women's golf championship, site undecided.

July 8-14: Ohio Amateur golf championship at Springfield Country Club.

July 17-21: National PGA golf championship at Dayton Miami Valley Club.

Aug. 15-17: Ohio Public Links golf championship at the Elms Club, Massillon.

Aug. 16: Ohio high school North-South all-star football game at Canton.

Aug. 16-24: Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalia.

Aug. 19-24: National Jay-Cee golf championship at Ohio State.

Aug. 20-Sept. 16: National Rifle-Pistol championships at Camp Perry.

Dates and site of the Ohio Open golf championship, scheduled for the northern half of the state, are undecided.

Dickinson Faces Tough Job in Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For a little guy who weighs only 125 pounds, Gardner Dickinson faced a monumental task today as he led the way into the final round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

Packed into a spread of only five strokes were Dickinson and 11 other professionals. At stake was a first-money prize of $7,000.

Nearest threat to the 29-year-old leader from Panama City Beach, Fla., was a seasoned rival, Art Wall Jr. Dickinson had a 54-hole score of 208, Wall 209.

Just behind were some of the greatest names in golf — Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke Jr., Tommy Bolt, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford and England's Ryder Cup star, Harry Weetman.

Add to these names of the so-called hungrier players on the circuit, Doug Higgins, Billy Maxwell, Billy Casper Jr. and Fred Hawkins and Dickinson's problem is easily appreciated.

Wall moved into the target zone with a flashy 67.

Higgins' 71 gave him 210. The early leader, Casper, from Chula Vista, Calif., fell back to 211 in a tie with Ford, Finsterwald and Weetman.

CUT BARN-BUILDING COSTS

PLAN AN ECONOMICAL POLE BARN USING PRESSURE-CREOSOTED WOOD

Putting up new farm buildings can be very expensive and time-consuming these days.

For many farmers the solution lies in an efficient, easily-constructed pole barn, built around poles set directly in the ground.

Naturally these poles, and other wood near the ground, must be well protected against insects and decay. That's why it's standard practice to assure long life and lasting strength by using only pressure-creosoted poles. We carry a large stock poles, lumber and posts pressure-treated with Barrett coal-tar creosote. Come in and look it over.

New Officers of Mailbag Club Are Installed

Buckeye Chapter of International Mailbag Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tillis for the first meeting of the new year.

Mrs. Lovey Riley, president, presided over the business session and Mrs. Vesper Hicks, chaplain, led in the devotional period. Secretary and treasurer's reports were approved as read and the installation of new officers was conducted by the Grand Chapter President, Mrs. Luther Doughman of the Valentine Chapter of Springfield.

Mrs. Doughman presented the new president of Buckeye Chapter, Mr. C. B. Tillis, a red carnation, the flower of the Mailbag Club and gave him the gavel, telling him only to use it to the glory of God and the Club. Other new officers formed a circle around her and she stated that the circle was never to be broken. Other new officers for the new year are Mrs. Dale Meredith, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Tillis, delegate; Mrs. Arlie Ashbaugh, historian, and Mrs. Vesper Hicks, chaplain and news reporter.

Mrs. Doughman's closing words were very uplifting and encouraging to make the club members eager workers for the year. Well wishes were heaped upon the new officers and delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Tillis assisted by Mrs. Essie Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Ernest Fout and Mrs. Charles Jones.

Members of the Valentine Chapter of Springfield were guests at the meeting.

Browning Club To Meet with Mrs. Feagans

Browning Club members will assemble at the home of Mrs. Nona Feagans for their meeting, Tuesday evening, January 8th.

A most interesting program arranged by Mrs. Elton Elliott and Miss May Duffee, will carry out the year's theme, "Great Religions of the World".

The literature department has charge of the program and will present Mrs. Donald Murdoch in a review of "Christ as Seen by His Contemporaries", and Mrs. Grace Iden on "Literature of the Bible".

Miss May Duffee, vice chairman, will present the program in the absence of Mrs. Elliott the chairman.

Young Adults Hold Meeting

The Young Adult Class of Sugar Creek Baptist Church met Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Garringer with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Breakfield assisting in the hospitalities.

Mr. Harry Campbell, president, conducted the monthly meeting with usual reports approved as read including a special report on sales tax stamps. A discussion was held concerning a Valentine Party for the next meeting, which will be in charge of the men.

The devotional period was under the topic "Love and Friendship". Several Scriptures were read, two poems and two readings entitled "Lord, Make Me a Regular Man", and "Thoughts for the New Year". Mrs. Breakfield closed the devotionals with prayer.

A short program was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kellogg, and consisted of a Bible Quiz and contest, and following the entertainment a social hour was greatly enjoyed with refreshments being served by the hosts and hostesses.

Wm. Horney Chapter To Meet Wednesday

The regular meeting of the William Horney Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution is being planned for Wednesday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, at two o'clock.

Members of Garden Club Hold Meeting

The January meeting of the Washington Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Hidy, with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Elza Woodruff, president, opened the meeting by reading the poem "After Christmas", and members answered roll call by naming a food for birds. The secretary and treasurer reports were approved as read.

A committee was appointed for the club's annual birthday party to be held in February and those on the committee are Mrs. Ray Bowers, chairman, Mrs. Ed Hidy, Mrs. Earl Horney and Mrs. T. N. Willis. A benefit party to help the club's finances was also discussed and it will be held on Monday, January 14.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Ray Bowers whose topic was "Tending Temperamental House Plants". She discussed different varieties of house plants and told of different bulbs to be planted indoors such as crocus, narcissus, tulips and others.

She also held a discussion on African violets and added that temperature for most plants is seventy to seventy-two degrees in the day time and sixty to sixty-five degrees at night. She also stated that no two people agree on all points concerning the propagation of raising African violets.

Mrs. T. N. Willis chose as topic for her program "The Four Basic Principles of Flower Arrangements". First is design — basic pattern of arrangement and it consists of a planned relationship among the component parts, flowers, foliage and containers. Second is scale — achieved by selecting materials reasonably related in size to one another and to their container. Third is balance — the grouping of materials within the pattern so that an impression of calmness and stability is created. Fourth is color — colors are ever present in flower arrangements, and focus point is the center of interest in an arrangement.

The Junior Garden Club members were guests and Mrs. Hidy gave them a house plant and an African violet. She also demonstrated how to start a violet from a leaf.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Summers served delicious refreshments.

Cecilian Club To Elect New Officers

The semi-annual business meeting and election of officers of the Cecilian Music Club, will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul S. Craig, Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock.

All active members are urged to attend and nominations for new active, associate and honorary members are to be presented in writing at this time.

Mrs. P. Ben Hummel will present "Elizabeth's Prayer," from Tanhauser with Mrs. Marion Gage accompanying.

The executive board will be hostesses for the meeting.

Presbyterian Women To Meet Wednesday

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Wednesday evening at the church, seven thirty o'clock.

A well planned program is to be presented, one which will be given to help the society have a sense of its own heritage, its outreach to other churches, and its plans for the new year. Mrs. Charles Pierson will render a vocal solo.

This Spring's New Fashions Slated To Call for Comfort

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of articles dealing with the latest in women's fashions.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—This spring it will be smart to be comfortable.

This is the big news New York designers are passing along to long-suffering American women, on the first day of a week of spring fashion previews for the nation's visiting fashion press.

As the first showings pointed out the trend, it became apparent that the new clothes are designed to conform to the natural lines of the body, to fit loosely and easily and to require no contortions of waist, bust or hips.

You won't have to wear a strangling waist cincher to fit into your new spring suit or dress. You won't have to pad your bustline or struggle to elimi to your hips. The new fashions allow the body to move inside its clothing.

The general silhouette is slender, but not in the sausage-casing sheath manner. Designers employ many ingenious methods to ease the fit of the new suits and dresses while maintaining the slim line. Jackets of the new suits are short, ranging from just below the bust to just above the hipbone. Some are loose and boxy, some bloused in back, some semi-fitted, some tightly fitted.

The cape is an important new trend, being used instead of a suit jacket, sometimes as a part of the jacket, sometimes as an addition to the jacket.

The ankle-length dinner and the later costume continues important in all collections, with full-length evening gowns much more numerous than the shorter varieties, except in junior collections.

It should be very easy for women to look their best this spring, because the new fashions are designed for comfort as well as slattery.

Open House Is Lovely Event at Haymaker Home

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haymaker and family entertained at an open house, by invitation, Sunday at their newly remodeled home on the Devalon Road. The hours were from two until five o'clock in the afternoon.

An attractive tea table was covered with a gold cloth and centered with a gold wire basket with a huge bunch of pink grapes, made of solid marble. An aunt of Mr. Haymaker's, Mrs. Roy Hayes, presided at the punch bowl and she was assisted by Mrs. Orville Wilt.

Out-of-town guests were from Jeffersonville, New Holland, Columbus, Bloomington, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and also of this city.

hour will be enjoyed in Westminster Hall with Circle 1, Mrs. L. M. Hayes, leader, serving as hostesses. All women of the church are invited to attend.

College Cage League Leads Hang in Balance

Bucks, Purdue To Vie For Laurels; Other Loops Schedule Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conference leaderships hang in the balance this week as Ohio's collegiate basketball squads bang back into heavy action with 52 games following the holiday lull.

Ohio State, off on the right foot in the Big Ten chase with a 72-66 win over defending champion Iowa Saturday night, meets Purdue here tonight in a game which must shove one from the top. Purdue defeated Michigan State 72-71 Saturday.

John Carroll and Wayne, atop the President's Conference with 2-0 records, fight it out Saturday for the lead. DePaul (4-0) and Ohio Northern (2-0) the 1-2 teams in the Mid Ohio League, also tangle Saturday.

Miami, far out front in the Mid-American with a 5-0 record to second place Ohio University's 1-0, goes against Western Michigan in a Wednesday scrap at Huntington and Bowling Green on the Falcon floor Saturday.

Muskingum and Mount Union are deadlocked for the Ohio Conference lead with 3-0, after two losses suffered by the Mounts in the Akron Invitational Tourney were erased by the conference. This week the Muskies entertain Akron Tuesday and visit Kenyon Saturday. The Mounts entertain Denison (3-1) Wednesday and visit Ohio Wesleyan (2-2) Saturday.

Last week found the Ohio squads winning 10 of 13 interstate games to boost their season record against outsiders to 64-45, with a scoring edge of 8435 to 7873. Host teams won 13 of 23, running the "home floor advantage" count to 103 against only 58 victories for visitors.

Last week's most astounding score was Dayton's 79-71 loss to Duquesne on the Gem City floor. Less than a week before the Flyers had dumped Duquesne 88 to 45 in the Louisville tournament. Canisius, which hasn't beaten the Flyers in four starts, visits Dayton Tuesday, and Xavier, loser of 15 of the last 16 frays with Dayton, is Sunday's foe at Cincinnati.

As the 40 teams go into this week's heavy schedule, only DePaul is unbeaten. The Jackets, with six straight, meet Tri-State at Angola, Ind., Tuesday night, and then go against Ohio Northern in Saturday's league contest.

Bloomington Tops Pickaway 55-44

Taking advantage of the breaks of the game, Bloomington's Bulldogs staged a spectacular rally in the last two minutes to trounce the cagers from Jackson Township High School, Pickaway County, by a score of 55 to 44, Friday night on the Bloomington floor.

It was a nip and tuck game from the start and the Bulldogs were leading by only two points with only two minutes left in the game.

Scouting victory, the Jackson team shifted from its zone to a man-to-man defense to go out after the ball.

The Bulldogs, who had gone into a semi-freeze, were playing it cautiously to hold to their slim advantage. But, with the Jackson defenses loosened in desperation, the Bulldogs made the best of their opportunities to grab 11 points while holding the Jackson boys to two points.

UNTIL that game-ending spurt was made by the Bulldogs, both teams had concentrated on defense. But, with the score always close, the game did not lack for excitement.

Accuracy in shooting was the main factor in the Bulldog victory. The Bloomington boys hit 80 per cent of their free throws and 40 per cent of their shots from the field. Sparking the offense were Jerry McCoy and Don Welsh. McCoy, shooting mostly from the pivot, got 15 points and Welsh, looping them in from outside the defense zone, got 14 points.

It was the sixth win in 10 games for the Bulldogs. Their only County League loss was to Jeffersonville's Tigers.

The Bloomington Reserves won their ninth game in 10 starts when they beat the Jackson Reserves, 54 to 31, in the preliminary. Ten Bloomington boys had a hand in the scoring. Leading the offense were Don Hidy with 10 points, Buddy Snyder with 11, Bob Riley with 10 and a promising freshman, Mike Evans, with seven points.

Johnny Saxton Carmen Basilio

IT'S THE THIRD TIME around for welter champ Carmen Basilio and ex-champ Johnny Saxton, this one coming up Friday, January 18, at the Cleveland Arena, with Basilio's title on the line in a 15-round bout. Basilio lost his title to Saxton last March in Chicago and regained it in September when he technically knocked out Saxton in Syracuse.

Robinson Involved In Small Hassle over His Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson — greying, serious and every inch the business executive — today found himself involved in a full-scale feud even though his baseball days are over.

The now-portly 8-year-old Robinson, who became the first Negro to play in the major leagues when he signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, crossed swords with Brook Vice President Buzzie Bavasi over the announcement of his retirement was made.

Robinson revealed his plans in tomorrow's issue of Look magazine. The story leaked out when some subscribers of Look received their copies before the magazine appeared on the newsstands.

Bavasi didn't like that and said so, adding that Robinson let down the reporters who covered the Dodgers and the New York Giants to whom he was traded less than a month ago.

"Believe me," said Robinson, a former UCLA all-around athlete, "I didn't intend to have things break this way. I signed with Look four years ago and it was common knowledge that when I decided to retire, I would do the story for that magazine."

"Imagine my feeling when I was traded on Dec. 12. The coincidence was all the more remarkable because I signed for a new job — which clinched my retirement — at about 5 p.m. that day, and 10 minutes later Bavasi called me and told me I was traded."

"I immediately called the Giants and asked Chuck Feeney (the vice president) to withhold the announcement of the trade until I had made a final decision. He called Horace Stoneham (Giants' president), who said he couldn't withhold it because so many people in the organization knew about it and the story would surely leak out."

Robinson said that was his dilemma. Should he tell the Giants he was retiring or try to beat around the bush. He called Look and was told to respect his contract, that the magazine was to have first crack at the story. Look Editorial Director Dan Mich confirmed this.

"So I respected my contract," he continued, "I knew this would hurt me, but I took the only course I knew."

As for Bavasi, Robinson was bitter.

"He might be a little burned over the fact that the deal didn't go through," Robbie said. "I've gotten along with him fine over the years. I've always regarded him as my friend. But I guess I was wrong."

The new job which Robinson referred to is vice president in charge of personnel for a restaurant chain (Chock Full O' Nuts). He signed a two-year contract at a reported $30,000 a year.

"If this job hadn't come up," he said, "I'd probably be playing for the Giants this year. The trade had nothing to do with my retiring."

The trade, which sent Robinson to the Giants in return for $30,000 nullified.

Any chance of his returning to baseball?

Irish To Retain Terry Brennan

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Terry Brennan will remain head football coach at Notre Dame next season in spite of the worst record posted in Irish history in 1956.

Brennan received a vote of confidence when the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, announced that Brennan will be retained for at least one more season.

Under Brennan, who succeeded Frank Leahy Feb. 1, 1954, Notre Dame staggered through the 1956 season with a 2-8 record defeating only Indiana and North Carolina.

The department approved 14 educational research contracts with OSU and five other colleges and universities. The department will provide $400,187 and the colleges will add $135,519. The individual contract amounts were not given.

Cage Leaders Rolling Along

No Halt Seen Soon For Kansas, Tarheels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas and North Carolina, the nation's top-rated college basketball teams, will seek to increase their unbeaten streaks this week. There's little reason to believe they'll be stopped.

The Jayhawks, No. 1, can pick up their 11th victory tonight against Oklahoma and take over sole possession of the Big Seven conference lead. Both teams won their league openers Saturday night, Kansas defeating Missouri 92-79 as Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain was held to 23 points and Oklahoma with a 69-67 triumph over Kansas State.

North Carolina's Tar Heels (11-0), well rested after an eight-day layoff, will take on William and Mary Tuesday night.

Most of the conference races look as if they'll go right down to the wire. Here's the way they shape up at the moment:

Atlantic Coast — North Carolina and Duke tied for the lead with 3-0.

Southeastern — Nip and tuck between Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee.

Big Ten — A tossup. Illinois was the preseason favorite.

Big Seven — Kansas appears too strong.

Ivy — Harvard off to a quick 2-0 lead. But Columbia is given the edge.

Southwest — Southern Methodist should repeat.

Southern — West Virginia leads with 4-0. Hot Rod Hundley canned 54 points as the pacemakers downed Furman 110-95 Saturday.

Skyline — Utah State in front with two victories against no-leaders. Brigham Young and Wyoming next with 1-0.

Rocky Mountain — Idaho State, the perennial champ, again top with 2-0 although it shares lead with Montana State and Colorado State.

Missouri Valley — Oklahoma A&M is favored. Wichita and Tulsa also are 1-0.

Pacific Coast — UCLA has run up 29 straight conference triumphs. The Bruins have 2-0 mark, same as Washington and California.

Bosseler Paces Southern Victory

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Washington Redskins Coach Joe Kuharich, who bossed the North team in Saturday's Senior Bowl football game, watched with mixed emotions while his Yankees took a 21-7 pounding from the South.

Don Bosseler, powerful University of Miami fullback, ripped the North line to shreds. He scored two touchdowns and set up the other South tally. Bosseler gained 189 yards in 28 carries and was voted the game's outstanding player by a wide margin. Bosseler will be on Kuharich's Redskins team next season.

Bomb Scare Ends Theater Showing
WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A false bomb scare at the Wichita Theater prevented more than a thousand spectators from finding out how "Giant," a film about Texas, ends.

When a man called the Wichita Falls Record-News and said a bomb had been planted in the theater and would go off in 10 minutes, the newspaper called police.

The film was stopped and the theater quickly emptied. A thorough search failed to turn up a bomb.

Three Local Cage Teams In Action Tuesday Night

Three of the four Fayette County high school basketball teams will be in action Tuesday night, two of them on their home floors. The fourth, Madison Mills' Warriors, will not play until Friday, when they go to Jackson Township in Pickaway County.

The basketballers from the Ohio School for the Deaf in Columbus are to play the Tigers at Jeffersonville Tuesday night, while the Darby outfit is tangleing with the Bulldogs at Bloomingburg.

Good Hope's Mad Anthonys will be playing at Fairfield High School at Leesburg the same night.

2,235 Deer Killed in Ohio Statewide Hunting Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state wildlife division reports that it has received 17,000 hunter report cards showing 2,235 deer killed in the recent statewide hunting season.

The division said its early prediction of more hunters than in the 1955 season, but a lower rate of success, is being realized.

Based on incomplete returns, the division said it appears that the total kill for the four-day season will approximate 3,200 to 3,400.

Celtics Weakened By Injuries as Lead Lengthens

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics, steadily driving toward their first National Basketball Assn. divisional crown, today were faced with the lengthy loss of three of the men vital to the club.

In opening their Eastern Division lead Sunday to four games by defeating Fort Wayne 118-92, the Celts lost the services of veterans Arnie Risen, Jack Nichols, Dick Hemric is already out of the lineup with a double ankle injury.

While the Celtics were getting banged around, Philadelphia, closest eastern pursuer, lost to last-place Syracuse 128-123. In other games, Rochester moved into first place in the west with a 93-86 victory over St. Louis and New York handed Minneapolis its fifth setback in a row, 111-101.

Prexy Opposed To PCC Setup

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California Chancellor Clark Kerr says he'll seek changes in the Pacific Coast Conference's new financial aid code, approved in principle last Friday.

Warning against turning college athletes into "hired gladiators," Kerr said Sunday "I think this is a long step toward professionalism."

He explained he objected mainly to subsidizing an athlete during the season when he was not playing his particular sport.

Busso Is Favored To Top Courchesne

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Busso, one of the brightest prospects in the lightweight division, is a 2-1 favorite to chalk up his eighth straight victory tonight.

The 22-year-old New Yorker opposes Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Busso has a 27-3-1 record, including 14 knockouts. Courchesne, another 22-year-old, has a 46-6-2 record with 18 kayos.

Sports Aplenty Slated in Ohio

6 National Contests Top Buckeye Agenda

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sports fans won't have to go far afield for their 1957 thrills and chills.

The Buckeye realm will furnish the arenas for national championship events in at least six different sports this year, along with the usual sprinkling of purely Ohio contests.

Here's a partial list of what's on the 1957 agenda:

Jan. 18: Champion Carmen Basilio vs ex-champion Johnny Saxton, 15 rounds for world welterweight title at Cleveland Arena.

Feb. 22-23: Ohio high school wrestling championships at Lakewood.

Marc' 1-2: Ohio high school swimming championships at Ohio State.

March 22-23: Ohio high school basketball championships at Ohio State.

April 11-June 7: Women's International Bowling Congress at Dayton.

May 13: Ohio Intercollegiate Golf championship at Ohio State.

May 24-25: Ohio high school track-field, golf tennis and baseball championships at Ohio State.

June 6-9: Rubber City Golf tournament at Akron Firestone.

June 10-11: Ohio Junior golf championship at Lima Shawnee club.

June 13-15: National Open Golf at Toledo Inverness.

June 17-19: Ohio Pre-seniors (40 to 49 years) golf at Columbus Country Club.

June 26-28: Ohio Seniors (50 and over) golf at Columbus Scioto club.

June 28-29: National AAU track-field at Dayton.

July 8-13: Ohio Women's golf championship, site undecided.

July 8-14: Ohio Amateur golf championship at Springfield Country Club.

July 17-21: National PGA golf championship at Dayton Miami Valley Club.

Aug. 15-17: Ohio Public Links golf championship at the Elms Club, Massillon.

Aug. 16: Ohio high school North-South all-star football game at Canton.

Aug. 16-24: Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalla.

Aug. 19-24: National Jay-Cee golf championship at Ohio State.

Aug. 20-Sept. 16: National Rifle-Pistol championships at Camp Perry.

Dates and site of the Ohio Open golf championship, scheduled for the northern half of the state, are undecided.

Dickinson Faces Tough Job in Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For a little guy who weighs only 125 pounds, Gardner Dickinson faced a monumental task today as he led the way into the final round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

Packed into a spread of only five strokes were Dickinson and 11 other professionals. At stake was a first-money prize of $7,000.

Nearest threat to the 29-year-old leader from Panama City Beach, Fla., was a seasoned rival, Art Wall Jr. Dickinson had a 54-hole score of 208, Wall 209.

Just behind were some of the greatest names in golf — Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke Jr., Tommy Bolt, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford and England's Ryder Cup star, Harry Weetman.

Add to these names of the so-called hungrier players on the circuit, Doug Higgins, Billy Maxwell, Billy Casper Jr. and Fred Hawkins and Dickinson's problem is easily appreciated.

Playing the Rancho golf course, a 36-35-71 layout whose 7,131 yards was swarming with an estimated 16,200 fans Sunday, Dickinson shot even par.

Wall moved into the target zone with a flashy 67.

Higgins' 71 gave him 210. The early leader, Casper, from Chula Vista, Calif., fell back to 211 in a tie with Ford, Finsterwald and Weetman.

Middlecoff, Burke and Hawkins were at 212 and Bolt and Maxwell at 213.

CUT BARN-BUILDING COSTS

PLAN AN ECONOMICAL POLE BARN USING PRESSURE-CREOSOTED WOOD

Putting up new farm buildings can be very expensive and time-consuming these days.

For many farmers the solution lies in an efficient, easily-constructed pole barn, built around poles set directly in the ground.

Naturally these poles, and other wood near the ground, must be well protected against insects and decay. That's why it's standard practice to assure long life and lasting strength by using only pressure-creosoted poles. We carry a large stock poles, lumber and posts pressure-treated with Barrett coal-tar creosote. Come in and look it over.

Food Stamp Plan Cost Told Congress

Agriculture Agency Opposed to Stockpile Against Emergency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department told an inquiring Congress Saturday that a food stamp plan for improving diets would cost the government between 600 million and 2½ billion dollars a year, depending on its scope.

The smaller figure would be the cost if the plan were limited to persons receiving some kind of welfare assistance. The larger would be the cost if all persons were assured diets costing an average of $5.50 a week, based on purchases by a four-person family.

The department made these estimates in a report requested by the last Congress. Legislators had asked the department to study stamp plans as a means of preventing the further accumulation of surplus farm products in the hands of the government.

The department itself made no recommendations as to whether a stamp plan should be authorized by Congress.

In another report also requested by Congress, the department took a negative attitude toward proposals that the government establish stockpiles of food as a safeguard against shortages in event of an enemy attack.

"Strategic stockpiling of food for emergency use in the event of nuclear attack upon this country would present extensive difficulties and involve substantial costs," the department said.

"The inadequacy of suitable warehousing facilities, the difficulties of management and rotation of supplies, and other problems are such," the agency added, "as to make stockpiling on a large scale undesirable if it can be avoided without undue risk to the population."

The department said, however, that consumers themselves should maintain stocks of foods in homes for emergency use.

For several years, bills have been introduced in Congress to set up a food stamp plan to channel food surpluses to low income groups. Such a plan was tried on an experimental basis in some parts of the country between 1939-43. Under it the government issued stamps to certified low income persons for purchase at retail stores of foods needed to supplement their diets. The government redeemed the stamps.

While the department made no recommendations for the future, Secretary Benson has indicated in the past that he believed the cost of administering such a program would be too much to justify its use.

At present, the department is making surplus foods available to the states which in turn distribute them among certified needy.

The department pointed out that the surplus problem in agriculture—as measured by government spending for price supports—is concentrated in wheat, corn and cotton, and not in classes of foods needed to improve diets, such as meats, dairy and poultry products, fruits and vegetables.

Services Tuesday For 4-Month-Old Strangling Victim

Charles Herman Neitz, 4-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Neitz, 3036 Chesterfield Ct., Columbus, was dead on arrival at Children's Hospital in that city Sunday after apparently strangling while eating.

The child's mother is the former Gloria Dean Sword of Washington C. H.

Mrs. Neitz had placed the baby in his crib after feeding him and a few moments later found him choking. Death came before he could be given medical attention.

Dr. John H. Richardson, assistant Franklin County coroner, said death was due to a pulmonary condition.

Survivors, besides the parents, are a sister, Dena Carol, at home, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sword Sr., Washington C. H.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Parrett Funeral Home here where friends may call after 4 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Here is the prediction for the coming five-day period:

"Temperatures will average near normal; normal high 35 north to 41 south; normal low 22-25. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday and Friday, and colder again Saturday. Snow and rain likely over the state Friday and snow flurries at other times over northern Ohio."

The state highway department today reported snow or snow flurries over most of the state, with highways either snow-covered, slippery or wet, making for hazardous driving conditions.

A belt of occasional light snow spanned an area from the northern Great Lakes eastward into the Northern and Mid-Atlantic coastal states today and became rain or drizzle in southern Virginia and North Carolina.

Boy, 14, Kills Girl; Worries About Knife

AIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Mutilated by 115 stab wounds, the body of frail, blonde Rose Ann White, 8, was found by a railroad track here Sunday. A 14-year-old boy admitted the crime.

Roger Brown's "principal concern" was that he might lose the knife, reported Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Clinton Peterson. Young Brown led authorities at 3:30 a. m. to the place where Rose Ann's body was buried loosely under a pile of thistles and grass.

Peterson said Roger, the stepson of Sgt. Merrill Brown of nearby Travis Air Force Base, confessed the killing calmly and told how he later went home to work on a stamp collection and watch television.

Sunday night in the Solano County jail at Vallejo, Roger wept a little talking to reporters and said he "wished" the girl was alive.

An autopsy disclosed that the child had not been criminally attacked, although her panties had been removed. Her skull had been fractured three times.

Roger had been employed to take care of Rose Ann at various times while her mother, Mrs. F. Ann White, 33, worked as a beer parlor waitress. The child's father is an airman in Japan.

Roger said while they were playing Saturday along the railroad track, he tripped and Rose Ann fell over him, knocking herself unconscious on a rock. While she was unconscious, officers said, the boy related he beat her on the head with a rock and then stabbed her repeatedly.

He removed her panties and buried them, officers said, because he left bloody finger prints on them when he turned her over.

Cockerill New Chairman of Commissioners

At its first regular meeting of the new year, held in the Court-house Monday morning, the Fayette County Board of Commissioners reorganized, electing Robert Cockerill, chairman, and Clifford E. Hughes, vice chairman.

ROBERT COCKERILL

The outgoing chairman was Ralph Minton.

All members of the board have served the county for the past several years. Minton and Cockerill having been elected in November to succeed themselves. Hughes is the only holdover member.

The commissioners here have followed a policy for many years of electing its members in turn each year for the chairmanship. Hughes served before Minton.

County Auditor Harry Allen acts as secretary of the board. This policy also has been continued by the commissioners for several years and Allen, who has been acting as secretary since his appointment as auditor, was elected to a regular term in November.

There was no other business of importance before the board at its meeting Monday, aside from approval of bills and a few routine matters.

The commissioners however are spending some extra time just now in preparing the annual appropriations for the county. They say they expect to complete this work probably by Tuesday.

Man To Pay Costs After Family Fracas

James Henry Keller, 31, Bloomington, was found guilty in Municipal Court on two separate charges that allegedly grew out of a family quarrel in Bloomington around 2:30 a. m. Friday. Fines in both cases were suspended, leaving only the costs to be paid.

Keller pleaded not guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct filed by his half-brother, Monte Slayton Jr., in whose home the fracas reportedly occurred. Found guilty by Judge Max G. Dice, he was fined $25 and costs, but the fine was suspended on condition that he keep out of trouble there in the future.

He also pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault filed by his brother, Earl Keller, but was found guilty and fined $5 and costs, with the fine suspended.

Keller was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays.

Bugs Moran, Pals On Trial in Theft

DAYTON (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, Chicago underworld figure in the 1920s, and two companions went on trial here today in federal court for burglarizing the Citizens Bank of Ansonia of $4,500 on Nov. 8, 1945.

Being tried with Moran were Virgil (Doc) Summers, 43, of Chicago, and Al Fouts, 66, of Dayton. All have entered innocent pleas.

Moran and Summers were paroled from the Ohio State Penitentiary Nov. 8 after serving 10 years for a kidnap-robber conviction involving a Dayton tavern owner.

Man Fined, Jailed For Drunk Driving

Harold Edward Dunn, 21, Route 6, arrested by State Highway Patrolman R. R. Shelne at 5:30 a. m. Saturday on CCC Highway, west of Washington C. H., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated when he was arraigned in Municipal Court here Monday morning.

He was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and suspended from driving for a year by Judge Max G. Dice.

At the same session of court, three other drivers forfeited bonds amounting to $35 for traffic law violators when they failed to appear.

Kash D. Amburgy, 34, South Lebanon, forfeited $10 bond on a charge of speeding on Columbus Ave.

Harold W. Prosser, 30, Manfield forfeited $10 bond for speeding on Columbus Ave.

Charles M. Turner, 18, Greenfield, forfeited $15 bond on a charge of running the red light at the Oakland-Clinton Ave. intersection.

Red Premier Heading for Moscow Talks

HONG KONG (AP)—Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left Peiping for Moscow today. Peiping radio announced he also would visit Hungary as well as Poland.

Observers in Hong Kong considered that Chou's extension of his tour to rebellion-torn Hungary did not mean any possible change in Peiping's support for the regime of pro-Russian Premier Janos Kadar.

Instead these sources believed the visit to Budapest is aimed at gathering more ammunition to support the current Red Chinese line that Soviet military intervention was necessary to keep Hungary from tumbling out of the Communist orbit.

The Chinese radio said Chou, who also is foreign minister, was accompanied by Vice Premier Marshal Ho Lung and Vice Foreign Minister Wang Chieh-siang. After his visits to Moscow, Warsaw and Budapest, Chou will complete his interrupted Asian tour with visits to Nepal and Afghanistan.

Chou's visit to Poland and Hungary so soon after the upsurge of the wave of anti-Sovietism in those two countries was viewed both in Hong Kong and Moscow as evidence that the Chinese regime is playing an increasingly influential and independent role in world communism.

Brown to Receive Top Governor Pay

COLUMBUS (AP)—Interim Gov. John W. Brown's salary will be at the rate of $25,000 a year for the 11 days he will serve in that office.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who will be inaugurated governor next Monday ruled today that Brown was entitled to the top gubernatorial pay.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes requested O'Neill to say whether Brown should continue on his $5,000 a year salary as lieutenant governor or be paid at the rate for the state's chief executive.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Pulitzer Prize winner in American history, was an infantry corporal in the U. S. Army overseas in World War II.

Another High Mark Seen In '56 Business Profits

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Larger sales volume in the final months of 1956 appear today to have pulled American business as a whole a little higher up on the profit trail.

First reports indicate that total earnings will once again set a new high mark, although the gain over the previous year will be small.

The margin of increase over 1955 dwindled steadily in each quarter of the year until in the summer months it approached the vanishing point. But fourth-quarter earnings after taxes appear to have been enough better to bring the year as a whole into the plus column once again.

Results are quite ragged, however, as between industries. The largest oil company estimates its 1956 net profit will top

Democrat Named Mid-East Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today appointed James P. Richards, former chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, as a special assistant on the administration's Middle East program. Richards will head up a mission to that area.

The South Carolina Democrat, who retired from Congress last week, will serve with the rank of personal ambassador.

Selection of Richards marks the second time in recent weeks the President has reached into the ranks of Democrats for a special assistant on foreign policy. Walter F. George of Georgia, retired chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, now is serving as Eisenhower's representative to NATO.

Bike, Hubcap Thefts Reported to Police

Police today are investigating the reported theft of a bicycle and two automobile hubcaps.

Mrs. Richard Keller, 321 Western Ave., reported Saturday that her son's red Western Flyer bicycle had been stolen. Missing hubcaps were reported Sunday by John Ellessor, 711 Briar Ave., and Mrs. Florence Parks, S. Elm St. Ellessor has a Pontiac station wagon and Mrs. Parks a Chevrolet station wagon.

Reports of the nation's big banks, now pouring in, show gains over the previous year ranging from 10 to 20 per cent. They made money on the increased volume of loans on which they got higher interest.

Reports of 59 utilities for the 12 months ending Nov. 30 show all but five bettering their 1955 earnings. Combined, earnings of the 59 increased 10 per cent.

Thirty industrials whose fiscal years ended before December had a harder time of it. Seven saw profits decline from a year ago, and two operated at a net loss. Combined, the 30 report 1956 profits of $173,539,042, an increase of 3.1 per cent over the $168,278,327 the same 30 made in 1955.

Credited with putting the brake on rising earnings for many companies is the increase in operating costs which in many cases has exceeded the hike in the prices of their products. Material and labor costs have been on the upgrade.
